New breaks in sewers are feared

Rains here this week have caused problems in several areas, including the Doherty Slough vicinity, and may have led to several sewer breaks. Some Doherty area residents Tuesday experienced water in their basements and one man reported the walls of his basement were cracking. He said he had two feet of standing water.

Another resident said the water had short-circuited his sump pump during the night and he was up most of the night and all day Tuesday bailing water from the basement and using a portable pump he had borrowed.

Granite City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, who controls the pump to drain Doherty Slough, said the pump was operating at a very limited capacity Monday night and

State warrant to search GC Steel pollution test data

Officials of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Illinois Attorney General's office obtained a search warrant yesterday from Associate Judge William Johnson to allow the state officials to check the records of Granite City Steel concerning pollution testing and test results.

The warrant was served by Madison County sheriff's deputies and attempts were being made today to comply, a spokesman for the steel company said.

The spokesman said the records requested pertain to tests conducted for the United States Environmental Protection Agency, which was not involved in the effort to obtain the search warrant.

The question of whether the warrant was legally obtained and is binding is expected to be discussed today by attorneys for the parties involved.

Retired officer robbed at home

Two Negro men, one armed with a .38-caliber pistol, entered the kitchen door at the home of Edward Zabotka, 1011 McCambridge Ave., at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday and demanded money and a gun.

Zabotka, a retired Madison police captain, and his family were in the home getting ready for bed. Zabotka told them he did not have a gun. The pair then took jewelry and an undetermined amount of money from a bedroom drawer.

One man was 35 to 40 years of age, 5-8 to 5-10 in height, 170 to 180 pounds, stocky build, wearing a gray turtleneck sweater and checked gray pants.

The other man was 5-10 to 6-0, medium build, early 30s with large Afro hair style.

The pair fled on foot southeast on McCambridge.

Withdraw Nameoki road department's Manpower workers

Allegations that the Nameoki Township Highway Department has laid off full-time highway department employees while using Manpower grant employees to do road work has led the Madison County Manpower Office to withdraw all of the highway department's Manpower employees, pending a meeting tomorrow.

The meeting will be between the township's highway commissioner, Albert Bell; his attorney, Supervisor Louis Whitsett; the head of the county's Manpower program, Dan Churovich; and a representative of Teamsters' Local 525, which represents the highway department's regular employees.

The union objected to Churovich when township highway department employees were laid off for a short period and all the Manpower employees continued to work.

The Manpower program is funded by a grant to Madison County from the federal government. The guidelines stipulate that the Manpower employees may not replace regular employees.

Bell has had the use of several Manpower employees as well as a task force team which was available when needed, the number of men on the team determined by the size of the project.

A report on the situation and the upcoming meeting, which is to be at 9:30 a.m. Friday, was

Wharf transferred in ceremony here today

The Granite City Wharf and Public Terminal at the local harbor was formally turned over to the Tri-City Regional Port District today by the Bi-State Development Agency Board of Commissioners.

Operated here by Bi-State since 1954, the wharf and shipping terminal include a dock at the Chain of Rocks Canal harbor, warehouse facilities, roads, railroad tracks, a storage area, cranes and other cargo handling equipment.

Last year, the facility handled approximately 361,000 tons of waterborne freight.

The $730,000 transfer price for the four-acre riverfront site and a triangular five-acre inland tract is to be paid by the Port District over a ten-year period.

The Granite City river terminal transfer avoids a potential Bi-State Development Agency conflict of interests as both a port operator and a planning body for the metropolitan area's ports.

John Brawley, Bi-State Development Agency chairman, said that "the transfer of the port facility and the memorandum of agreement between the Agency and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council are major steps forward that should lead to greatly expanded shipping and economic activity in the St. Louis metropolitan area."

John Belkoff, Port District president, told a gathering of officials this morning at the river terminal that the "Tri-City Port District accepts the responsibility that goes with the acquisition of the Bi-State wharf and terminal facilities in the Granite City harbor, and we will attempt to continue the operation of this facility in the best public interest."

"We look forward to a time of advancement of our common interests in a true spirit of regionalism."

"It is our hope that the cooperation between Bi-State and the Tri-City Regional Port District in port operation and port development will prove an example and model for cooperation between other segments of our bi-state region in its commercial and social activity."

Belkoff continued, "As chairman of the Tri-City Regional Port District, I extend the welcome of the district and its officers and personnel to the public officials of corporate entities on the Illinois and Missouri side of the river, and particularly his excellency, Governor Christopher 'Kit' Bond of the great state of Missouri."

"We also welcome our friends who have no official capacity in government, but who are here this morning because of their past and present interest in the progress of the Tri-City Regional Port District and the cause of regionalism in our area.

Mayors urging I-255

The Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors, meeting last night at the Fireman's Hall in Madison, voted to take a strong stand with legislators and state and federal officials on behalf of Interstate 255 construction.

Collinsville Mayor Lewis Kraus noted at the group's April meeting that Illinois Transportation Department Director Langhorne Bond is concerned about possible diversion of Downstate highway funds.

Six bills designed to give Chicago authority to build a cross-town expressway over Gov. Daniel Walker's objections could delay or eliminate building of I-255 in Southwestern Illinois, Bond said.

Asserting that the circumferential highway in this region has been long delayed and is badly needed, Kraus obtained his fellow mayors' backing for contacts with General Assembly members and other officials.

About 130 attended the meeting, with Madison Mayor

Driver rescued

Traffic was tied up for over 30 minutes after two trucks collided at the intersection of Illinois Route 203 and Bend Road at 8:50 a.m. Tuesday. Spilled gasoline proved threatening for a driver trapped inside.

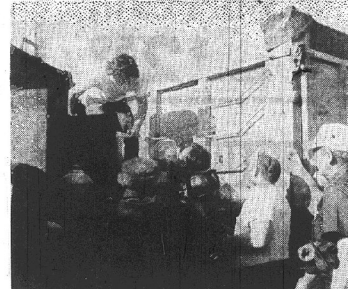

Roy Rogers, 33, of Caseyville, driver of a Northwestern Railroad truck, was pinned inside the cab by the steering wheel for 20 minutes while the Madison Fire Department rescue squad worked to free him, cutting away parts of the vehicle.

Rogers was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, x-rayed, treated for bruises and a cut to the chin, and released. He was charged by Illinois State Police, being issued a traffic ticket for defective brakes.

Norman Graham, 40, of 2638 E. 24th St., a passenger in the railroad truck, also was taken to the hospital, x-rayed and released.

Ronald J. Gerstner, an independent semi-truck driver from Trenton, Ill., was west bound on Bend Road and

Franklin storm line bidding

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Bids for construction of a four-block-long stormwater sewer on Franklin Avenue will be opened by the Granite City Council May 15, the City Council decided Monday night.

Aldermen were informed that an engineering study of the area has been completed and that specifications for bidding will be available by Monday, May 5. A mammoth sewer and street collapse on Franklin near Amos Avenue April 7 involved sanitary sewers.

The aldermen voted to allow contractors to obtain specifications starting Monday and submit bids by May 19.

The specifications call for a storm drainage line up to 27 inches in diameter between Amos and Cottage avenues to drain into existing storm sewers.

It is estimated the storm sewer will cost about $42,000 to construct, with financing from federal revenue sharing and motor fuel tax funds.

The aldermen also opened three sealed bids on a program to code-index and cross-reference all existing city ordinances. The bids were referred to the council's finance

On the first floor will be eight teller stations, the new accounts department and a drive-up window.

The second floor will house executive offices, the loan department and a board room. All furnishings will be new.

A unique feature of the new location will be a down-to-dusk American flag and flagpole installation.

At dawn, the flag will automatically come out of its housing within the pole and go up. At dusk, the reverse will take place. It will be the first such flagpole in this area.

Madison County National Bank, founded in Madison, Ill., in 1923, became federally chartered in 1957.

It currently has total assets exceeding $23 million, and is the largest savings and loan establishment in Granite City.

In 1960, when the association moved into its current home office, total assets were $3.5 million.

Albert H. Froemling is president of the association. He joined Madison County Federal in 1959 as executive vice president and was elected president in 1966.

He is a former board member of the Illinois Savings and Loan League, and has served on numerous committees of the U. S. League of Savings Associations.

He is a member of the Madison County-Jerseyville Managers' Association. In addition, Froemling is active in a number of area civic organizations.

Directors of Madison County Federal are Arthur F. Buente, Robert B. Dunlap, Kenneth J. Billmer, D.D.S., Ernest L. Hopkins, John L. Palchiff, William C. Rainford, John W. Reese, Gilbert Roach and Froemling.

Madison County Federal offers a full range of savings plans. Passbook savings currently earn 5 1/2 percent per year interest. Certificates range in term from one to four years and in rate from 6 percent to 7 1/2 percent.

Accounts are insured to $40,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and the association makes all types of real estate loans.

given at the Nameki Town Board of Auditors meeting Monday night.

In "other business," the auditors agreed to accept the bid of Egyptian Stationers of Belleville to supply furniture and furnishings for an addition to the town hall for $3,830. The board considered several bids and recommended the Egyptian bid as best. The addition is partly built.

The auditors agreed to ask the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab engineering and consulting firm to prepare an engineering estimate of the cost of constructing a water line to the Arlington Heights subdivision.

The board has requested that $15,207 of its tentative federal Community Development Grant money be used toward the project, which received the tenth highest priority in the county for funding.

Additional money is to be appropriated toward the project from Community Development grant funds in subsequent years.

A letter from Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, head of this district's grant program, reported that the county's grant is to be considered within 75 days of its filing. Government bodies should not make commitments to spend such funds until they are approved, it was noted.

Schuler indicated he will call a meeting this month to discuss limitations of the program with officials.

More flexible mass transit is proposed

This metropolitan region will need to take "new directions" in the field of transportation "if it is to solve future problems resulting from gasoline shortages, air pollution and increased highway congestion," the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council was told Wednesday.

The call for new directions was contained in a report presented to the Gateway board by the consulting firm of Alan M. Voorhees and Associates, which has just completed a three-month study of transportation needs and problems in the two-state St. Louis area.

According to the Voorhees report, which is to serve as the basis for a nine-month study of specific possible solutions to the region's transportation problems, an adequate public transportation system could be developed for considerably less than the $2.5 billion cost of an 86-mile rapid transit system proposed last year but rejected by the Gateway Council directors.

The kind of system suggested in the new Voorhees report might involve a combination of commuter rail lines, special bus lanes and "light rail" facilities along selected traffic corridors, representatives of the Voorhees firm said.

Details of such a new system are to be worked out in the next phase of study, which is being directed by the Gateway Council with federal financial support.

In assessing the public transportation situation here, Voorhees and Associates concluded that present and future problems cannot be solved by continued expansion of the regional highway system. This is true, the Voorhees report related, "because problems of gasoline availability and air pollution are likely to force curtailments in auto use."

Curtailed auto use would tend to concentrate increased numbers of citizens in the region's more urbanized portions, increasing congestion in those portions at a time when there is increased resistance to new highway construction in urbanized areas, it was asserted.

The report said highway congestion problems could be caused somewhat through such "low-cost" devices as carpooling, changes in work schedules by major employers, improved traffic engineering, and freeway metering.

But it gave several reasons why these devices are unlikely to effect major changes in the St. Louis transportation situation in the foreseeable future.

The only presently available answer, according to the report, will be extensive transportation improvements going far beyond the expansion and improvement of presently available bus services.

Voorhees told the Gateway directors that a $500 million transit improvement plan could provide greater St. Louis with commuter rail service on two routes, construction of special bus lanes along one route, a priority-use lane system for buses on several streets and expressways, dial-a-ride and other special services, and reorganized bus routes.

A $1.5 billion plan could provide rapid transit on three routes, bus lane construction on one route, light rail transit on two routes, commuter rail on one route, priority lane use for buses on several streets and expressways, dial-a-ride and other special services, and reorganized bus routes.

The firm predicted that such improvements would attract large numbers to public transportation and "produce millions of dollars annually of direct and indirect benefits to citizens and local governments."

The firm proposed that the next nine-month phase of transit study be divided into three periods, each lasting three months.

In the first, best possible transit improvement alternatives would be identified. In the second, alternatives would be analyzed and evaluated and major elements of an improved system for the region would be selected.

In the third, initial projects would be selected for implementation. The Voorhees report concurred with East-West Gateway's already announced plans to include an extensive citizen participation program as a major element in the transit planning process.

committee and City Clerk Robert W. Stevens for study and a recommendation. The council also voted to repeal controversial top signs on State Street at the "T" intersection with 28th Street. Alderman Frank Greenwald of the Second Ward requested that the existing posts for the stop sign be used to erect "children at play" signs instead.

City Attorney George Piloff was asked to prepare a ordinance authorizing a new stop sign at an alley in the area of Jordan and Washington Avenues.

The council voted to impose a five-ton load limit on three streets, except for local deliveries and garbage collection.

The limit will apply to Maple Street between Nidringhaus Avenue and West 20th Street; Washington Avenue between 20th Street and Nidringhaus Avenue; and all of St. Clair Avenue.

Nostalgia is plentiful here on Sunday nights

Tommy, Buddy, Woody, Charlie, Jimmy, the names of famous orchestra leaders come easily to a quartet of musicians appearing weekly in Granite City.

The "big band era" has long since passed from the scene. But still much in evidence is a multitude of memories for those who were young and active during its heyday.

Those currently playing in Johnny Karoly's Big Band All Stars were closely associated with many of the top bands. They have been able to faithfully duplicate such bands' sounds and exuberance, the relatively small size of their current instrumental group. Large numbers of old and new "big band sound" fans are being attracted to hear them each Sunday night, from 8:30 to 12:30, at Charlie's Restaurant, 2606 E. 24th St. Karoly, who lives at 2605 Edison Ave., was once the featured drummer with the widely-acclaimed Tommy Dorsey orchestra. The Granite Cityan joined Dorsey when the celebrated drummer, Buddy Rich, left to form his own orchestra. Rich recommended Karoly as his replacement.

Karoly has assembled the new musical combo entirely from the ranks of those who served their apprenticeship in the era when large bands dominated the national entertainment spotlight.

Each of the Karoly Big Band All Stars was a solo star in his own right, and together they are credited with reaching a high level of musical excellence.

providing concert-quality music simultaneously with selections suitable for dancing.

Tenor saxophonist Bobby Graf was once with Woody Herman.

Pianist Charlie Gottschalk formerly played with the Charlie Barnett orchestra.

And guitarist and bass player Bill McNab at one time was featured with the Jimmy Dorsey orchestra.

Nostalgic tunes are high on the priority list when the Karoly group performs.

Most of the numbers are either directly from or reminiscent of the big band days. Requests from the dancing public also receive attention.

Decades have passed. But those who regularly attend on Sunday nights attest to the fact that the big U. S. bands, while mostly gone from the scene, are far from forgotten.

'Acre of Art' show Sunday at South HS

An extensive art show and an outdoor concert will be presented from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday at Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City High School South.

The annual "Acre of Art," sponsored each year by the Granite City Area Council of Parent-Teacher Associations and the Fine Arts departments of all Granite City schools, will be continued this year for the first time with an outdoor concert and refreshments, according to Eugene L. Aiaasi, District 9 consultant of art education.

Weather permitting, the North High School Concert Band, under the direction of Robert D. Todoroff, will perform a program of music on the lawn adjacent to the gymnasium. Patrons are being urged to provide their own seating accommodation, such as lawn chairs or blankets.

In addition to the band numbers, the Vocal Music Department at South High, under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Ann Bright, director, will present several selections. Refreshments will be made available to patrons by members of the North High Band Parents Association, Aiaasi said.

In the event of rain, the music segment will be transferred inside the gymnasium overlooking the art exhibits.

The "Acre of Art" show serves each year as a showcase for art projects of various types created by Granite City pupils from kindergarten age through the Grade 12 level. Sculpture, paintings, sketches and novelties pieces are displayed in the show.

The public is invited to attend. No admission charges are made, the art coordinator said.

12-3 rom for Steeler nine

GCIS North's baseball nine upped its record to 11-5 here Tuesday, blasting visiting Mater Del of Breese 12-3.

North players collected 13 hits and committed two errors while starting pitcher Mike Waldo and reliever Daris Davis held the Knights to only six hits.

Breese made four errors.

Waldo allowed five hits while fanning five batters before Davis took over in the fifth.

The Steelers started their massive scoring with two runs in the first. Dave Harrison was hit by a pitch, stole second and scored on a hit from Richard Schmidt. Schmidt stole second and third, Jeff Reiter walked, and both runners executed a double steal.

Mater Del made the score 2-1

In the third before five Steeler runners crossed the plate in the same inning.

Harrison walked and stole second. Richard Schmidt tripled, Mark Davis and Jeff Reiter both singled and Ed Schmidt tripled during the big inning.

The Knights picked up two runs in the fourth, and a fifth-inning four-run North spree helped decide the contest.

There were hits by Billy Carr, Ed Schmidt, Darrel Page, Timmy Breckner and Harrison in the fifth frame.

Jeff Reiter provided North's final score in the sixth. He singled, stole second and made it home when Gene Logas' grounder was thrown away at first base.

Assumption topples Trojans here, 5-3

Madison High School's baseball nine competed at home yesterday in a makeup contest with Assumption, losing to the visitors 5-3.

Pioneer Jim Beaver went the distance on the mound, fanning 12 Trojan batters and walking none.

Assumption had six hits and one error, Madison collected eight hits and made three errors.

Madison held a 3-0 lead going into the fourth inning. But Assumption posted four runs in that inning.

Madison scored two runs in the first on hits by Joe Gulash, Emmitt Timmons and Cedric Wilson, and got a run in the third on a hit by Wilson and a triple off the bat of Darrell Franklin.

The visitors scored again in the fifth.

Collecting hits also for Madison were Danny Hancock, Kevin Werner and Gulash.

Thompson arm, Wilson bat aid Madison win

Trojan hurler Randy Thompson went the distance on the mound Monday at Red Bud while his teammates played an errorless baseball game, blanking Red Bud 7-0.

Madison High collected nine hits to Red Bud's four. The hosts made one error.

Senior slugger Cedric Wilson was three for four at the plate, increasing his batting average to .350. He now has 15 hits in 12 games. Madison has a 3-9 record for the season.

The onslaught started in the first inning with two runs on hits by Peter Fackura, Emmitt Timmons and Wilson.

Two more Trojan runners scored in the second as Harold Wilson, Fackura and Joe Gulash garnered hits. A two-run fifth inning developed when Timmons walked, Wilson singled, both stole bases and Darrell Franklin doubled.

Madison's final score was in the seventh when Timmons walked and stole second and Wilson singled.

Mercer in two games on Panama ball field

Mercer Mortuary, defending Illinois Inter-City Baseball League champion will complete Sunday in a doubleheader on the road at Panama, starting at 1 p.m.

The local squad opened its 1975 season here earlier this week, losing 4-3 to Highland-Pleasant in 11 innings.

Host Panama has yet to play in league action; its opening game with Troy was rained out.

Troy will vie Sunday in a doubleheader at East Alton Fairfack. Fairfack last weekend was a 6-4 loser to the East Alton Vans.

League President Ollie Miller notes, "We have eliminated splitting participating teams into divisions, since we have only six teams on the schedule."

In past years, teams were placed in red and blue divisions, with division representatives at the end of the season meeting for the league title.

Rain ends 9-1 game

Red Devil Anthony Ware scored unassisted without a hit in Venice's 9-1 loss at Valmeyer Tuesday.

Venice Coach Ken Perkins said, "We'll never know if we could have won the game or not now." The contest was called after four innings because of rain.

Valmeyer hit the Red Devils with a scoring barrage—five runs in the first and four in the second inning after Ware's first-inning run.

Ware walked, stole second and third, and crossed the plate when Richard Bailey was picked off first base. Bailey had walked and was "caught leaning the wrong way."

Venice, now 0-3, started behind Mike Logan. He was relieved in the third by Algie Crawford, who fanned four of the six batters he faced.

Record field for state baseball tourney series

The largest field in the 36-year history of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' state baseball tournament series — a record 532 downstate and suburban schools — begins the chase for the 1975 title at 112 district sites the weekend of May 3, 10, 12. Granite City won in 1948 and was second in 1963 state championship.

Traditional rivalries have been altered this year because of an increase of 34 schools entered in the series. Last spring, a then-record 498 downstate and suburban schools entered the series.

The 36th annual state tournament will be held June 5-6 at Meinen Field in Peoria. Seven survivors of district, regional and sectional tournament play will be joined by the Chicago Public League champion in the state meet, which again will be hosted by Manual High School. Eric Johnson, Manual principal, will serve as tournament manager.

Pairings for the State Tournament, as determined by a blind draw, will be: Quarterfinals Thursday, June 5 Game 1 — 9:30 a.m. — New Lenox (Providence) sectional winner vs. Carpentersville (Dundee) sectional winner.

Game 2 — 11:30 a.m. — Champaign (Central) sectional vs. Murphysboro sectional winner.

Game 3 — 2 p.m. — Chicago Public League winner vs. Skokie (Niles West) sectional winner.

Game 4 — 4 p.m. — Springfield (Griffin) sectional finalist vs. Bartonsville (Limestone) sectional winner.

Friday, June 6 — Game 5 — 9:30 a.m. — Winner Game 1 vs. winner Game 2 (semifinals).

Game 6 — 11:30 a.m. — Winner Game 3 vs. winner Game 4 (semifinals).

Game 7 — 7:30 p.m. — Winner Game 5 vs. winner Game 6 (championship).

There will be districts at 112 sites May 8, 10 and 12; regionals at 28 sites May 18 and 19; sectionals at seven sites May 24 and 26; and the state final at Peoria June 5 and 6.

Defending state champion Northbrook (Glenbrook North) will host a four-team district and will open against Glenview (Glenbrook South). The Spartans nipped East Peoria 4-3 in eight innings to take last year's crown in a tournament series which was hit hard by poor weather.

To become state champion, a team must win a minimum of nine straight games during the series. All games are scheduled to be seven innings in length, but the 10-run rule (if a team is ahead by 10 runs after five full innings) will be in effect for the complete series.

Chicago area teams have won the last six straight titles and eight of the last 11. Last non-Chicago area team to take the title was Peoria (Manual) in 1957.

Only one team — Des Plaines racing fans to watch the chief starter drop the green flag, signifying the start of competition.

Don Justus, newly-elected president of the St. Louis association, relates, "The midgets are again making a comeback in popularity, and people will see more events scheduled here this season."

Heading the contingent of midget race car drivers in Saturday's 7:30 p.m. program will be Jack L. Dillard, 44, of Maryland Heights, Mo. Driving a race car is only one way Dillard gets around at fast speed. He is a full-time executive pilot for a major St. Louis firm.

President last year of the association, Dillard began his racing career in 1961 at Mayfield, Ky.

In 1972, he finished fifth in St. Louis area point standings. He was sixth in 1973 and third in 1974.

Expected to provide fierce competition for him and his cohorts is Kenny Schrader of Baldwin, Mo.

Schrader, at the age of 16, began racing sportsman stock cars at Valley Park, Mo., and the same year captured that division's track championship. He started campaigning in 1972 in late model stockers here

2nd in 1974 managed to place fifth in the point standings. He began racing midget cars last year and was named the association's "rookie of the year."

Included in the midget competition also are some of the nation's top-ranked drivers, including Gene Gennette of Kansas City, Allan Brown of LaFayette, Ill., Bob Wente of St. Louis, Les Scott of Ossian, Ind., Gary Schooley of Davenport, Iowa, and Newt White of Lockport, Ill.

Defending late model stock car champion driver Len Gittermier will seek to repeat his feat of capturing last week's race on the half-mile dirt oval.

And sportsman class driver Jim Groceman will be looking for his second main event victory of the new season on the quarter-mile oval.

The midgets also will compete on the inner, smaller track.

Force necessary to subdue man, investigation by police concludes

The Granite City Police Department has concluded an investigation into the arrest of a Granite City man early this week, concluding that officers used only necessary force to arrest the man, Chief Ronald Veizer said Tuesday.

Fritz Foschiatti, 46, of 2815 E. 25th St., was struck several times during a disturbance in the Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave.

The scuffle ended in Foschiatti and Patrolman David Rosenberg, 25, being hospitalized. Police Sgt. Richard Woods, 37, suffered abrasions to his face and left forearm; he was treated and released from the hospital.

Mrs. Margarita Foschiatti, wife of the injured man, alleged her husband was severely beaten, despite warnings to police from her son that Foschiatti was ill.

She said he suffered a brain concussion from an auto accident Jan. 14 and she alleged that officers "beating on his head with nightsticks nearly killed him." She said he suffered injuries to his head, shoulders, both arms, his back and his stomach.

Mrs. Foschiatti said her husband and son went to the tavern together, and that the son told her his father was doing "nothing wrong" other than being loud. The son alleged the father did not provoke a fight.

The son went home after the fight and told her Foschiatti had been arrested. She alleged finding him unconscious and bleeding in a jail cell, and said she demanded an ambulance to take him to the hospital.

Police said they attempted to convince Foschiatti to leave the tavern peacefully and that he struck both. He did not throw Rosenberg out of the tavern, as had previously been believed.

They then used their night sticks to try and arrest him while protecting themselves, they said.

During the scuffle, several tables were knocked over and a police portable radio was knocked across the room, they said.

Officers reported they knocked Foschiatti down repeatedly to attempt to handcuff him, but each time he got up and tried to continue to fight.

They finally handcuffed him with two sets of handcuffs and called for an ambulance and assistance.

Chief Veizer said detectives questioned the patrons of the tavern that night and found sufficient verification of the reports given by the two police officers.

Other officers came to assist and all of the police on the scene said Foschiatti refused to get into the ambulance or into a squad car to be taken to the hospital.

He was reported to have said he would walk to the hospital and show everyone what the police did to him.

Officers said that to avoid additional fighting and injuries to the man, they allowed him to walk escorted to the hospital. In the emergency room, police and hospital authorities said Foschiatti refused to allow anyone to treat him and he caused a disturbance, forcing them to instruct police to remove him from the hospital.

Officers said they attempted to place him in a squad car and another disturbance ensued, with Foschiatti kicking Sgt. Woods on a leg.

Foschiatti was placed bleeding in a jail cell and police held discussions on what should be done, it was related.

He was asked if he wanted hospital treatment and, finally, after his wife arrived, he requested that he be returned to the hospital, authorities said.

He did not lose consciousness in the jail, they added.

He was taken by ambulance from the jail to the hospital and was admitted, later being transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Charge victim of burglary

Charles L. Lipscomb, 2214 Washington Ave., was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis after police alleged finding a small quantity of marijuana in his home.

Police arrested two youths inside Lipscomb's home April 22 during a burglary. Later, when photographing the inside of the home for evidence, they alleged finding the marijuana.

Gerald D. Ishum, 19, of 2715 Buxton Ave., and Kenneth D. Harris, 17, of 2224 Washington Ave., have been charged with burglary in connection with the break-in.

Concession stands are burglarized

The concession stand and beer stand at Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Namecki Road, were burglarized after a door and a window were pried open between 8 p.m. Monday and 2:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Stolen were three half-barrels of beer, 56 pounds of hamburgers, 35 pounds of hot dogs and 179 assorted boxes of peanuts, potato chips and cigars.

Parked car struck

Kevin Kelleher, 19, of 4510 Kirkpatrick Homes, was injured when his auto struck the parked car of Leon Scroggins, 1350 Twenty-seventh St., early this week. He decided not to seek hospital treatment.

Kelleher was charged with failure to stop and give information after an accident. Police alleged his southbound auto struck the rear of the Scroggins car, pushing it into another auto. Kelleher then left the scene, it was charged.

$250 sewer tap-on likely; fall construction bid action

Residents of Chouteau, Namecki and Venice townships who elect to use the proposed Four Township Sanitary Sewer probably will be required to pay about $250 to tap-on to the sewer system and the monthly user rate will be about $10 per home, officials of the program estimated this week.

At a public meeting on easements for the project, Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the County Board's sewer committee and supervisor of Chouteau Township, said the figures are based on rough estimates of the local share of the cost, the number of homes which will use the sewers, and the monthly sewage treatment charge required by Granite City.

After bonds for the local share of financing the sewers are retired, the monthly rate for users will decrease to reflect only the cost of sewage treatment, it was explained.

Members of the sewer committee had been reluctant in the past to estimate the tap-on and monthly fees, but rumors that the monthly fee might be as high as $40 led the committee to release its preliminary estimates.

The figures are based on a recently approved grant from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for about $10 million, and on the estimate that the sewer construction will cost nearly $14 million. Bonds are to be sold to finance the $4 million local share.

The $14 million estimate does not allow funds for the purchasing of easements through private property.

Residents of areas through which the sewer will run are being asked to grant the committee free easements.

Sparks explained that paying for easements would only increase the cost of the program and force the tap-on fee or the monthly fees to be increased.

Nearly 100 couples have signed free easements and many others have indicated they will sign as soon as easement forms for their properties are available.

Edward Juneau of the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab engineering and consulting firm, chief planner on the sewer program, said the remaining easement forms should be completed by next Monday and will be available at the Namecki and Chouteau town halls for signing. Both husbands and wives sign the forms. Volunteers also will be visiting their neighbors, requesting them to grant easements, it was announced.

REQUESTING EASEMENTS from the 400 persons attending this week's township sewer meeting was Chouteau Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks, standing. Nearly 100 couples granted free easements at the meeting and many others indicated they would sign such forms when available. After May 3, blank easement forms will be available for signing at the Namecki and Chouteau town halls. Numerous volunteers also will be asking their neighbors to sign in an effort to speed sewer installation.

Several residents at the meeting asked questions concerning improvement of storm drainage, and Juneau explained that the new lines are for sanitary sewage only.

They will improve the area by eliminating the use of septic tanks, which can pollute surface water and present a health hazard.

Also, they will facilitate development of a variety of facilities of value to area residents.

A question of whether sump pumps can empty into the sewer lines also was answered, Juneau saying the sewers are for contaminated water only.

Sump pumps must empty into the surface of the ground and are considered ground water, or could be diverted into stormwater drainage lines if such are provided by other means.

"The more volume we give to the Granite City sewer treatment facilities, the more they are going to charge us to treat it. We will pay by the gallon for treatment."

Residents should not be penalized by someone using the sewers to improve drainage or to remove water from his basement," Juneau explained.

The sewers also may not be used for basement drains. "They will be constructed above the water table to avoid the kinds of problems Granite City is now experiencing in the Namecki area," Juneau said.

He estimated that if all easements can be obtained by July 1, bidding on the construction can begin in October. Contracts for the work must be awarded by the end of December if the county is to qualify for the $10 million grant, he said.

Burglary on 12th

A bank bag containing $50 cash, five bed sheets worth $20 and an $18 electric shaver were stolen from the home of Nora Lewis, 2016 Twelfth St., it was reported during the weekend.

The items were stolen from the room of a boarder in one room of the house. The house was ransacked. It was not known if anything was stolen from the remaining rooms.

Entry was gained through a door which was believed to have been left unlocked.

Comanche and Flyer nines defeat South

The Granite City High School South baseball Warriors dropped two Southwestern Conference games this week, 6-0 Monday at Cahokia and 8-6 here Tuesday to East St. Louis.

On Monday, Comanche hurler Dan Sweeney pitched a two-hitter while his teammates collected seven hits and played an errorless game. South had three errors.

Cahokia scored four runs in the third inning, one in the fourth and another in the sixth. Warriors Keith Champion and Jim Kafka collected hits.

Against East St. Louis, South had eight hits and one error while the visitors collected 10 hits and committed four errors.

South jumped to a 5-2 lead at the end of three innings, scoring a run in the first on hits by Paul Mushill and Mark Greenwald, three in the second on hits by Keith Champion, John Pritchard, Mushill, and Kevin O'Shea and a run in the third aided by Kevin Winans and Champion.

East St. Louis picked up two more runs in the fourth and four in the sixth. South scored again in the fifth on a single by Champion and a triple off the bat of Mushill.

KAREN REISINGER of Granite City, who has accepted a four-year scholarship to Arizona State University at Tempe. The outstanding swimmer will graduate this month from South High School in Kansas City, where she is staying at the home of friends and training with a top-rated swim team. Headed by triple-events winner Joe Ward, Granite City High School South track and field athletes won 81-60 Monday at Collinsville.

Ward ran to victory in the 100-yard dash (1:10.5), 220 dash (23.1) and the 440 dash (1:11.3).

The Warriors also earned big points on double victories from Dwayne Terry on the track and Della J. Smith, 1968 Third St., reported at 4:10 p.m. Monday that when she returned home she found a stereo component worth $350 had been stolen. Others had seen four young men in the neighborhood.

VIETNAM CONFERENCE
On March 1, 1973, the Vietnam Conference in Paris ended as 12 foreign ministers initiated agreement on operations of the cease-fire.

North girls 3rd

GCHS North's girls' track and field athletes earned 13 points Tuesday, taking third place in a meet held here with Alton and Cahokia.

Cahokia captured the meet with 60 points and Alton had 33 points.

Placing in events for North were: 440 relay — Cathy and Rose Braun, Carolyn Goldasch, Rhonda Schilling 1st (1:54.4); 440 dash — Heidi Haupt 2nd; 80 dash — Rose Braun 3rd; 80 hurdles — Kay Marcum 3rd; 880 relay — Robin Hayden, Carolyn Goldasch, Rhonda Schilling, Cathy Braun 3rd; 100 dash — Cathy Braun 3rd.

Mile run — Laura Deatherage 3rd; 220 dash — Carolyn Goldasch 3rd; discus — Carol Douglas; shot put — Jan Rose 3rd.

7th win in row by net Warriors

GCHS South's Warrior tennis team continued its winning ways at home Wednesday, defeating Edwardsville 6-1.

South has captured seven straight meets and now has an 8-6 record, 7-3 in conference play.

South results were: Singles — Bill Rusick 6-2, 6-0, Mike Papes 6-4, 7-6, Tim Frost 7-5, 6-3, Harold Rose 1-6, 3-6; doubles — Rusick-Frank Minarec 6-3, 6-3, Papes-Frost 6-3, 6-2, Kevin Worster-Mike Hayes 7-6, 6-3.

CHAMPION STEELER ATHLETE Ed Opich. Winner of the discus throw in the 1974 Madison County track meet, the GCHS North student returned to the county event in 1975 and placed second. He also was second in shot put in both county meets. In the Mattoon track and field carnival in late April, he threw the discus 187 feet, breaking the old record of 186 feet, eight inches, set by Paul Andrews of Champaign Central in 1970; it is a new all-time high school state record for a non-state finals meet.

The 5-10, 200-pound senior recalls that "I didn't throw it exceptionally high, but rather flat and right down the line. But I knew the moment I released it that I had made a good throw."

North High Coach Chuck Mizerski comments, "I have coached two state discus champions—Jim Robbins in 1972 and Brad Hiles in 1973—and Opich is one of the more dedicated athletes I have ever coached. He may not have an ideal physical structure for the discus, but he overcomes it with hard work."

Conditioning himself by lifting weights several times daily and by throwing the discus 100 times a day, Opich hopes to perform well in this spring's statewide competition.

1,200 Business Women at convention

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
"Women Helping Women" was the concept prevalent throughout the 1975 Goldmaria convention of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs (IFBWP), which concluded this week at the Marriott Hotel, Chicago.

A total of 1,200 delegates, representing over 10,000 IFBWP members in 167 Illinois clubs, attended the conference.

Twenty-one representatives of the Granite City IFBWP Club, headed by Miss Annellen Smith, president, and Mrs. Rosemary Baseden, president-elect, were among the delegates.

The principle of effective assistance being offered by women in business, her professions to high-school-age girls, women wishing to advance their careers and those in the senior age group were stressed by several outstanding speakers.

Among those addressing the convention were Dr. M. Elizabeth Tidball, a renowned professor of physiology at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and Dr. F. Harigan, Marie Bowden of Florida, National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and Miss T. Shepherd of Winnetka, a trustee of the University of Illinois.

First outstanding honors were accorded the Granite City IFBWP Club, including the coveted state "Speak-Out" award won by Mrs. Lois Wetton, who previously achieved first place honors at the local and District 14 levels of competition. It is the first time the local club has attained the state honor.

Mrs. Wetton, owner and operator of Lark Fashion Hut, 4306 Nameoki Road, will represent the Illinois Federation in competition at the national convention in Las Vegas, Nev., in July, speaking on the same subject — "Happines."

Granite City IFBWP Club also achieved the top state membership award for clubs over 75 members, having enrolled 75 new members during 1974, an increase of more than 25 percent, and received nine "Sunburst" awards, presented to individual members each recruiting three newcomers into the club.

The local delegation accepted a national membership award for recording a 25-percent membership increase and a state membership award for equalization.

For contributions to the National Federation's Scholarship Fund; plus a $500 grant to the Granite City Scholarship Foundation and scholarship grants to two IFBWP members, the Granite City club was presented a National Foundation Award.

Mrs. Catherine Burton of Collinsville was installed as state president at a gala banquet at the Marriott Grand Ballroom.

Several surprise guests and gifts greeted the new state president, who was accorded tribute by Collinsville Mayor Les Krause.

Among those introduced were Mrs. Burton's husband, Laymon; her daughter, Miss Sally Jo Burton, Collinsville IFBWP president; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mancil Woodring of Belleville; her sister, Annabel Woodring, state program chairman, Collinsville.

Also presented to the conference were Mrs. Burton's employers, Rudolph Steffan, board chairman, and Donald Steffan, president, Service Blue Print & Photo Copy Co., St. Louis; and Mrs. Josephine Krause.

Other state officers installed by Mrs. Bowden were: Yvonne Hirsch, South Suburban (Chicago), president-elect; Fidelia Doolin, Carbondale, first vice-president; Lucille Schmitt, Metropolitan (Chicago), second vice-president; Wilma K. Harpole, Mount Vernon, recording secretary; and Coleen Forry, Rockford, treasurer.

Miss Annellen Smith of Granite City was appointed 1976 state convention co-chairman. Others appointed from District 14 were Judy Nieman, Edwardsville, state membership chairman, and Helen Galvin, Belle-Eau 21 Club, Illinois breakfast chairman at the national convention.

In his keynote address, Lt. Gov. Harigan stressed the need to help the state's senior citizens "with respect and dignity."

A strong advocate for greater tax relief for the elderly, Harigan commented, "We are strangling the elderly with red tape in Illinois. There were programs costing more than $10 million introduced in the state legislature in the past 18 months, which got lost in bureaucracy. We don't need more dollars we just need to redress those dollars not spend more.

"When you start talking about the elderly, remember that half the unions, half the corporations and half the countries of the world are run by people we call elderly. If this nation's 200th birthday is going to mean anything at all, we should see that our elderly are treated with respect."

"In this state," the lieutenant governor continued, "We have 1,200,000 persons classified as elderly, but because of the bureaucracy involved in state programs we could reach only 107,000 of this number."

He suggested the IFBWP clubs start "outreach" programs. "Find these people and show them there are benefits available to them. This was the way a group in Kanakake, he said.

"Above all, take advantage of the unique talents that only the elderly have to offer."

"You people have the capacity, the basic professional talents, skills and organizational ability to lead this state in setting goals so that this 200th anniversary year means something."

It is from within this room that leadership must come," Harigan concluded.

The opposite end of the age spectrum was emphasized by Dr. Tidball, who urged IFBWP members to "respond to the younger woman... talk to high school age girls and above all take young women seriously."

"Women have the mental ability to accomplish whatever they wish. We have some very special gifts to offer. We are the role models. Remember, there are few adult women who are role models even on today's college campuses."

"Talk to these younger women and encourage them by your accomplishments to realize their own potentials."

Recalling a high school career day, the attended in Washington, Dr. Tidball said, "There was a rapport between the woman scientist before and they responded to us when we took them seriously."

"One young girl said she would be considered a pioneer if she accomplished her aim to become a cardiovascular surgeon... We told her she certainly would, and to go after her goal."

Dr. Tidball stressed, "You should initiate such programs yourselves and participate personally in such excursions. Until such time as men and women accept a position of equality, it is up to you to encourage the younger woman. You are a veritable gold mine of wisdom and accomplishment and if you don't help the young woman of today, no one else will."

"Our survival needs compel us to redefine the role of male and female. For the first time in history we are able to come to the conclusion that women are no longer needed for reproductive capacity alone. We have learned to control that, and no longer must reproduce to survive."

"In today's society, the male must redefine his role to survive. The physical aggressiveness that he needed to protect himself and meet life is no longer necessary, but still it forms the basic concept of masculinity," the research scientist said.

"Now, he gets mad at someone over a telephone and his body exudes large amounts of testosterone and it creates a heart attack at will."

"Their survival will depend on their willingness to re-evaluate their theories of what constitutes masculinity. Biologically, future man must learn to change his physical aggressiveness to mental aggressiveness to survive."

Currently on sabbatical leave from George Washington University, Dr. Tidball presently is working with the Commission on Human Resources, National Academy of Sciences. She also is executive secretary of the Committee on the Education and Employment of Women in Science and Engineering.

Rail crossings rough and blocked too often—City

Objections concerning railroad blocking crossings in Granite City for long periods of time were raised by several aldermen during a Granite City Council meeting Monday night.

Alderman Walter Nemel of the Fifth Ward reported waiting one hour and 20 minutes one day to cross from West Granite City into the downtown area. "There was not one crossing open. It's ridiculous," he commented.

Mayor Paul Schuler agreed, alleging, "I sat there for 45 minutes at the West Pontoon Road crossing Friday night and finally I went around gates. They never did go up while I was there."

Complaints have centered primarily on the crossings between downtown and West Granite City, including Niedringhaus Avenue, 19th, 20th and 25th streets and West Pontoon Road, all blocked by trains for long periods of time of having crossing gates down for long periods with no trains in the crossings.

Objections also have been voiced about long delays at the Route 162 crossing near East 23rd Street.

Delays at crossings in the city led Granite City Patrolman Michael Sparks to sign a complaint Friday against the Norfolk & Western Railroad, and on Saturday Sgt. Michael DeVine and Patrolman Steven Willard signed a complaint against the same railroad.

Both complaints allege obstruction of a highway.

George Filcott Jr., city attorney, informed the aldermen that the Illinois Commerce Commission has scheduled a hearing for May 23 at 10 a.m. in Springfield on petitions filed by the city requesting that rough railroad crossings be repaired.

Petitions were filed with the ICC for improvements by the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad, the Norfolk and Western Railway Co., Penn Central Transportation Co. and the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Filcott and Mayor Schuler said they will attend the hearing and testify on behalf of the city. They invited interested aldermen to join them.

Chouteau studies insurance

Questions on whether the township's liability coverage adequately protects against injuries to the township's employees hired under the Madison County Manpower program prompted the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors Monday night to begin a study of its coverage.

The board requested its insurance agency, the Holsinger Agency, to prepare a written evaluation of the township's liability insurance for consideration by the board.

A lengthy report was given by Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks and other auditors about a public meeting on the proposed Township Sewer Program held during the weekend.

Sparks repeated estimates that homeowners wishing to use the new sanitary sewers will be required to pay about $250 to tap-on to the sewer and about $10 per month for sewage treatment and bond retirement fees.

The board also discussed minor revisions to the new township garage, and suggested changes in rear door and automatic door closing devices.

Car hits pole and overturns

Two young men were injured when their auto went out of control on Post Road a half-mile west of Bluff Road at 11:20 p.m. Monday, struck a pole and overturned two or three times.

Admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after the accident were Joseph Berkley, 18, of Edwardsville, the driver, and Tim Couch, 16, of Edwardsville, a passenger. Both said they were thrown from the auto.

Berkley suffered hematoma to his right ear and a serious cut to his back. Couch suffered multiple abrasions to his face and arms. Both were x-rayed.

Madison County sheriff's deputies reported the auto went out of control after one wheel went off the pavement. The car skidded 600 feet, struck a utility pole, breaking it, continued on and overturned two or three times.

The auto was demolished, they said.

MODEL DAM built by Don Moseley, St. Margaret Mary School seventh grader. One side shows how a dam can turn a nearly useless river into a valuable asset. The other side shows how a dam can make a stream a source of power, irrigation and recreation. The dam was exhibited at St. Margaret Mary's Education Fair this spring.

HOMEMADE HURRICANE. Ron Landman and John Prazma of St. Margaret Mary School display their hurricane exhibit at the school's annual Education Fair. Purpose of their project is to show how hurricanes spin and to demonstrate how the winds of a hurricane spin in different directions in the Northern and Southern Hemispheres.

Tax agencies exempt from fines on safety

A decision regarding levying fines for safety and health violations by public bodies handed down Monday by the Illinois Industrial Commission. The commission decided that fines against public bodies for violations of occupational health and safety laws are not appropriate penalties in the public sector. The decision was based on the fact that fines on governmental units do not directly act as a deterrent upon those responsible for hazardous conditions, but rather fall most heavily on citizens in the form of increased taxes or decreased services.

The decision calls for immediate cessation of all work at a site where inspectors find conditions dangerous to the health or safety of workers. A decision resulted from a 1974 case in which four employees of the village of Grayslake died while cleaning sewers. The men were using a potentially toxic chemical to clean sludge from the sewers and had not been instructed of its proper use or potential hazards.

When the chemical was exposed to air, it turned to hydrogen sulfide. The workers attempted to escape the fumes, but one collapsed in the sewer. His three co-workers attempted to drag him from the sewer, but they also were overcome. Required first-aid equipment was not available at the site.

The Illinois Department of Labor had cited Grayslake for three violations of the Occupational Safety and Health Act and fined the municipality $500 for each violation.

The decision affects all public projects by all governmental units in Illinois.

MARK LANE, lawyer and author of the best selling book and the film, "Rush to Judgment," will speak at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Tuesday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom. His visit is sponsored by the University Center Board. The performance will include a lecture on "Who Killed John F. Kennedy?," a showing of "Rush to Judgment" and the Zapruder film that shows the assassination of the president. "Rush to Judgment" is a documentary reconstructing the assassination on location in Dallas, with interviews from eyewitnesses. Lane heads the Citizens Committee of Inquiry and the Electoral Process in Washington, a group investigating an alleged role of the Central Intelligence Agency and Federal Bureau of Investigation in facts surrounding the Kennedy death. Admission will be 50 cents for SIUE students and $1 for non-students.

Man leaps from window, escapes

A man eluded Venice police early this week by jumping out of a second floor window at 175 L. Wright. Police officers said they were called to that address when the occupant said a $175 diamond wristwatch had been stolen by visitors.

She said a man in a car had just left. Officers stopped a car and took the driver to the Hibbler apartment, where they attempted to resolve the issue. While they were talking with the occupant and the man, officers said they heard a loud crash upstairs.

They went to an upstairs bedroom and noticed that the window had been broken. Broken glass was on top of two small children asleep in a bed near the window. No charges were filed. A Missouri man was sought for questioning.

Debate cost of 'flea market' city license

An ordinance designed to control a proposed "flea market" in the former Biederman's building on Nameoki Road was read at the Granite City Council meeting Monday night and will be acted upon by the council at its next meeting May 5.

It proposes a $5 per day license fee for each business operating in the building, or an annual license costing $10. The character of each applicant is to be investigated as part of the licensing process.

The flea market, described as similar to one operating in Belleville, is designed to allow hobbyists and small manufacturers as well as businesses to rent booths to sell their products, all in one location.

The proposed license for "sales by more than one independent retail operation conducted at a single location" will force each booth renter to also purchase a license, of fields said.

Alderman Walter Nonn of the Fifth Ward objected to the proposed ordinance, saying, "You're only charging the big stores $25 a year. You're going to charge these $10 a year? I think you're penalizing the man who wants to come in here and start a business."

It was asserted that no license is required for the Belleville flea market.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward, chairman of the ordinance committee, commented, "There is a lot more investigation and paperwork in the city clerk's office. It doesn't seem like a bad ordinance to me."

The council indicated approval of the first reading of the ordinance, with only Nonn voting against it.

The proposed ordinance also stipulates that applicants for clerk information regarding the business, location and the names of all employees.

The chief of police is to investigate each such business and its employees and report whether the applicant is of "good character."

No license will be issued to anyone who has been convicted of burglary, robbery or receiving stolen goods, according to the ordinance.

Fines for not having a license were set at $25 to $100 for each offense, with each day of operation considered a separate offense.

House bids due Monday

Bids on the student built house at 2259 Clark Ave. are being accepted at the office of the Granite City Board of Education, 20th and Adams Streets, and must be received before 3 p.m. Monday.

Bids proposal forms may be obtained on weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the board office, and appointments for visiting the site may be made by calling 876-6600.

The house, built by building trades classes of Granite City High North and South, features two full bathrooms, wall-to-wall carpeting throughout and central air-conditioning.

All bids must be sealed and clearly identified on the outside of the envelope as "Bid on Building Trades House." Bids must be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $100, school officials said.

Final payment for full amount of the bid must be made within 90 days from official notification by the Board of Education to the successful bidder.

The board is reserving the right to reject all bids. In an earlier round of bidding requiring a minimum offer of $28,000, a lone bid was submitted and withdrawn.

Shot in foot accidentally

Ronnie Hudson, 16, of 2728 Dale Ave., accidentally shot himself through his left foot in his home during the day Tuesday.

His parents reported returning home at 4 p.m. and finding blood in the house and a bullet hole through a living room wall.

Police found a trail of blood from the living room into the kitchen and outside through the garage. A towel covered with blood was found in a chair in the living room.

Police and the parents searched for their son, finding him and a friend at the Nameoki Drainage Ditch near Terminal Avenue. The father took him to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where x-rays were taken and he was transferred to the Scott Air Force Base Hospital.

The young man told police he had been playing with his mother's loaded .38-caliber pistol and it accidentally discharged. The bullet entered the top of his foot and exited through the instep.

Frohardt PTA elects

The retirement of Mrs. Vera Farrow, a teacher for 34 years, was noted by Frohardt PTA members, who also elected new officers and honored those with long service to PTA at a meeting last week at the school.

Elected to head the Frohardt unit in 1975-76 were: Mrs. Judy Russell, president; Mrs. Arlene Laub, vice-president; Mrs. Sue Moss, secretary and Mr. Jenna Johannpeter, treasurer.

Mrs. Joyce Toussaint, retiring president, announced Mrs. Farrow's retirement after 36 years in the Granite City School District. A learning disabilities teacher for the past three years at Frohardt School, Mrs. Farrow previously taught primary grades at Namecki School.

She is a past president of the Granite City Area PTA Council and Namecki PTA, and has held many other offices and chairmanships in the Parent-Teacher organization.

As a personal gift to the school, Mrs. Farrow has purchased two dogwood trees and a red bud tree which are now planted on the school's front lawn, Mrs. Toussaint announced.

Cub Scout Den 3, led by Mrs. Cloree Grizzard, was in charge of the opening flag ceremony.

Granite Chapter 650 to initiate Extensive plans for an initiation ceremony for new members of Granite Chapter 650, Order of Eastern Star, were announced by Mrs. Betty Ebrecht, worthy matron, and Mrs. Robert Ebrecht, worthy patron, at a meeting at the Masonic Temple held during the weekend.

The initiation event, taking place on May 23, will be followed by a program, entitled "Space Program from a Woman's Point of View," given by one of the two space nurses for the astronauts.

Escorted and introduced were Mrs. Bess Henley, past grand Martha of Illinois, two grand lecturers and 15 grand chapter committee members.

Mrs. Ebrecht said 12 members attended the Passion Play in Bloomington, and that plans for the annual past patrons' dinner dance are being completed.

Refreshments were served in the dining room. Decorations in a spring decor, prepared by Mrs. Louise Orr, featured tiny egg cup umbrellas as favors and daisies arranged in water sprinkler cans centering the tables. About 65 members attended.

Meetings during the summer months will begin at 8 p.m., and mothers will be honored at the May session, it was reported.

of what was hoped to be a journey in partnership between the Missouri and Illinois counties in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

"The administration of that effort was assigned to the Bi-State Development Agency. Since that time, this facility has been operated in the public interest to promote the economy of the bi-state region.

"Today marks a new date on the calendar in the time progression to a workable regionalism.

"Bi-State is moving on from the detail of operating a single port to the task of coordinating port development efforts of the bi-state area.

"The detail of the physical operation of this facility has been turned over to the administration of the Tri-City Regional Port District—a public corporation created by the wisdom of the Illinois legislature in 1959 to attend to the detail of the creation, operation and expansion of a public port.

"This facility for handling general cargo, operated by St. Louis Terminal and Apco Oil Company, adds to the presently existing facilities of the Tri-City Port District for the handling of bulk cargo.

"Along with the liquid terminal facilities operated respectively by Bulk Service Corporation and Apco Oil Company this makes the Tri-City Port one of the most complete public or private port facilities on the Mississippi River north of Memphis," Bellefleur said.

"It was through the foresight of Granite City Steel Company—now the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation—that the Bi-State Agency was encouraged to create the wharf and terminal facilities in the Granite City harbor.

"Without that foresight, and the initiative to implement it, it is easily possible that Granite City harbor port facilities as we know them might never have come into existence. For this we, the Illinois-Missouri region should be eternally grateful.

"We welcome the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel and the St. Louis Terminal Distributing Co. as new tenants of the Tri-City Regional Port District.

"We pledge to them, our cooperation and sincere interest in their efforts to improve the facilities and the services rendered by them.

"With the help of our representatives and senators in the Illinois legislature, and with the assistance of the Bi-State Development Agency in developing new sources of public funding and technical assistance and economic planning, this Tri-City port facility can be a great stimulant to the economy of the Bi-State region.

"I hope we will have the continued interest and support which you evidence in being here this morning.

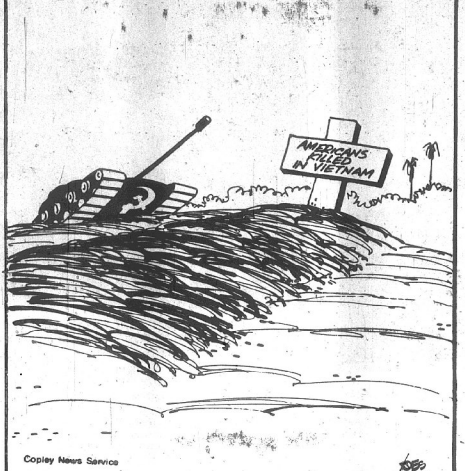

Transfer of the wharf and port facility was contingent on a memorandum of understanding between Bi-State Development Agency and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council specifying Bi-State's role as the regional port coordinator of metropolitan St. Louis.

Under the agreement, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will be responsible for preparation of a Regional Port Development Plan which will include:

- a. Coordination with the existing Port Task Force, the Bi-State Development Agency and individual Port Authorities and Districts in the area during preparation of the regional plan.
- b. Provision of necessary highway and rail access and support facilities such as power, sewage and water.
- c. Preparation of an existing land use inventory of the regional ports and access facilities.
- d. Identification of water areas suitable for additional barge floating and areas suitable for recreational use.
- e. Preparation of a topographic report to determine the physical constraints to future industrial development and the identification of potential water side development areas.

Bi-State Development Agency under terms of agreement will be charged with:

1. Coordination with the Council, the Port Development Task Force and other Port Districts or Authorities in the area in the preparation of the regional port plan.
2. Provision of assistance to other port authorities districts in their efforts to implement the Regional Port Development Plan or their own plans and to assist them in processing applications for federal funds.
3. Coordination of the implementation of plans and recommendations approved by the Council for development of the Port of Metropolitan St.

Louis with the understanding that each individual port district or authority will be responsible for implementation of any plan within its own jurisdiction.

A. Coordination with the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association in promotional activities for development of the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis.

It was further agreed that the Agency and the Council would jointly share the responsibility of obtaining federal, state and local funds necessary to prepare and implement recommendations and programs for the development of the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis.

The ceremony marked transfer of control of the Southern Harbor area, Tri-City Port occupies the northern area.

Bond said, "I am proud that the two great states and many interests involved can cooperate like this."

Each state has five members of the ten-member Bi-State Port Development Council.

"We know the close interrelationship that this part of Illinois has to the St. Louis area and the entire state of Missouri. We are here because of the significant step you are taking," Gov. Bond said.

"The Mississippi River is a great resource, and we share it jointly along our state boundaries. The river can be a great boon to the commerce of both states.

"We all know our economic interests are not limited to state boundaries," Bond told the gathering of about 50 officials.

Gov. Bond said the state was unable to attend because the General Assembly is in session in Springfield. He sent Frank Kirk, director of the Illinois Department of Land Government Affairs, to represent him.

Kirk expressed the governor's apologies for not being present and added, "He sends his warmest wishes to the Bi-State Development Agency and individual Port Authorities and Districts in the area during preparation of the regional plan."

"The will and the desire to achieve cooperation, and the leadership, have been here a long time. But the actual concrete agreements have been the most difficult to accomplish."

"Agreements such as this port transfer are primarily a local matter. We in the state government can be helpful."

Robertson, attorney for the Tri-City Regional Port, served as master-of-ceremonies for the event and introduced the speakers.

Robertson recalled, "At one time we thought, 'It will be a cold day in May' before we would see a transfer such as this. It is not a cold day in May, but it is a beginning of cooperation."

John Brawley, director of transportation for the state of Illinois, said the actual cooperation between the two states is a beginning of a new era in the development of the St. Louis area.

There are two great opportunities here — the first is for the Tri-City Port to make maximum use of the development potential that exists here and the second is the cooperation and coordination for regionalism which can enhance the port development of the entire area."

Associate Judge William E. Johnson, 44, has failed to receive a sufficient number of votes from Third Circuit Judges to be retained in office. It was announced Tuesday. His term expires June 30.

Johnson was the only one of eight Third Circuit Circuit associate judges who failed to receive the necessary five retention votes from the eight circuit judges.

Retained were Associate Judges Robert D. Francis, Merlyn G. Hiscott and A. Andrews Matocoe, all of Granite City. Edward C. Ferguson of Highland, Thomas E. Gibbons of Edwardsville, Philip J. Rarik of Troy and Clayton R. Williams of Alton.

Johnson opposed Circuit Judge Victor Mosale in the Democratic primary in March 1974 and lost by a vote of 12,467 to 10,879.

He also initiated a suit which led to salaries of Downstate judges being increased.

Circuit judges now receive $42,500 per year and associate judges $37,500. The former are elected; the latter are appointed for four-year terms.

Johnson was assigned to court in the Granite City Hall for more than one year and was reassigned a month ago to Edwardsville.

He handled traffic, criminal, small claims and city court cases, as well as other duties, while in Granite City. He resides in Glen Carbon.

Applications to fill the vacancy are being accepted by Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman from all attorneys licensed to practice in Illinois.

Johnson has said he may apply to fill his own vacancy.

May, who operates the James May Reporting Service and frequently is employed by firms in Granite City, will be formally seated at the May 8 board meeting.

Edward Foley, executive secretary of the Board of Madison County, said he will be in charge of the board.

William Pistrul of Collinsville serves as board chairman. Other members are Mamel D. Madison, D. Madison, Parish of Godfrey and Reese Hoskins of Collinsville.

The board appointment was made by Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board of Supervisors.

New breaks

Tuesday morning due to "kinks in the output line."

He said he had to shut the pump down for repairs for several hours Tuesday to get a new discharge line on it.

Portell commented that the sewer was working at full capacity by Tuesday evening and operated throughout the night, but was having only slight impact in draining the slough, since ground in the area is saturated and all the rainwater going directly into the slough.

Portell said several potential sewer breaks may be developing due to the high water table in the city. The water washes out the dirt and sand supporting sanitary sewers, causing them to collapse.

Areas where indentations have been noticed in the ground include the 3500 block of Terrace Lane, the rear of 1927 St. Clair Avenue and in the 1500 block of Garfield Avenue.

At least two other areas are being watched carefully by the street department, Portell said.

The department this week completed repairs to a sewer break near 2131 Amos Ave. which may provide an answer to the problems being encountered in pumping sewer water around some sewer breaks, he said.

Portell explained that the broken section of a sewer was isolated at the manholes on both sides of it, and a new temporary line was installed between the manholes above the water level.

The water level is about 9 1/2 feet at that location, and the new line goes from about six feet deep to nine feet.

The manhole at the higher side is being allowed to fill with water to equal the water level, so the sewer pipe and flows by gravity through the new pipe to the second manhole, where it will return to the regular sewer system.

Supt. Portell said the higher temporary sewer will eliminate bypass pumping of any kind at that location.

The method may be used at other breaks where the water table is low enough to allow temporary sewers to be placed above the water level.

Vance Clark dies at 22

Vance Clark, 22, of 107 (rear) Sixth St., Brooklyn, was taken from his home by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was pronounced dead upon arrival here at 5:10 p.m. Monday.

An inquest will be conducted at Edwardsville, Ill., by County deputy coroner, to establish the cause of death. He had been in apparently good health until being stricken suddenly.

Arrangements are pending at an East St. Louis funeral home.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Quarter loss on insurance subsidiary

Post Corp., Appleton, Wis., lost $353,180 or 45 cents a share before securities transactions during 1974's first quarter, compared with a loss of $189,907 or 24 cents a share for the same period in 1974.

The loss, including securities transactions, was $435,697 or 50 cents a share, compared with a loss of $213,224 or 24 cents a share a year ago.

As was the case all during 1974, the loss was experienced in Post's insurance operations. All-Star Insurance Corp., a 99.8 per cent owned subsidiary, lost over a million dollars before taxes during the quarter.

Post's other operations — principally newspapers and broadcast stations — remained profitable for the quarter. In fact, these operations more than doubled their pre-tax profits compared with a year ago.

A spokesman said All-Star's continued losses were an extension of 1974's adverse experience of the property-casualty insurance industry nationwide and even worldwide. He said the firm hopes that underwriting results will "bottom out" during the second and third quarters.

All-Star's pre-tax loss before securities transactions for the quarter was $1,042,127, compared with a loss of $645,740 for the same period a year ago. During all of 1974, All-Star lost $2,958,670 before taxes, which more than wiped out profits from Post's other operations.

Post's pre-tax earnings on its operations other than All-Star — which is not consolidated for financial reporting purposes — totaled $341,847 compared with $150,233 for last year's first quarter.

DESIGN WINNERS. State Senator Sam Vadala (D-Edwardsville) congratulates two of the winners of the convention-community center design competition for area high school students, sponsored by the Southern Illinois Builders Association. Terry Van Dyne (center) of Mascoutah was the winner and received $500 in cash.

Jeff Robertson (right) of Belleville, second, received $300. The third place recipient was Robert Davinroy Jr. of Belleville, not present for the picture; he received $100. The awards were presented at a luncheon at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Price fights 'exploitation' of Naval petroleum reserves

Declaring himself deeply concerned over what appeared to be Congressional support of a program to open the Naval Petroleum Reserves to "unlimited commercial exploitation," Melvin Price (D-Ill.), chairman, House Armed Services Committee, on Monday urged his House colleagues to support an alternative plan recommended by his committee.

"The White House on Tuesday said it is altering its attitude toward the issue, and obtained a postponement in the House debate."

Cong. Price's comments were directed to H.R. 49, as reported by the Interior Committee, which would transfer the Naval Petroleum Reserves at Elk Hills, Calif., to the Interior Department for open-ended production.

"The proposal of the Interior Committee embodies a broad grant of authority to the Executive Branch to exploit federally-owned petroleum reserves which today are under the control of the Navy Department," the local congressman said.

"This bill goes against the grain of recent reform efforts designed to increase Congressional oversight."

Price added that it would ill-behave Congress, no matter how innocently, to give to the Interior Department authority which would parallel that which resulted in the Teapot Dome scandal in the early 1920s.

"The Interior Committee proposal will, if adopted," said Price, "unwittingly put the fox in charge of the chicken coop."

"This bill could result in the transfer of valuable national assets in the Naval Petroleum Reserves which were preserved, explored and developed at the expense of all the citizens of the United States."

Rail station improvements

Officials of the National Rail Passenger Corp. (Amtrak) have agreed to provide $400,000 for station rehabilitation in Illinois, citing the station improvement program as a model for other states.

Gov. Dan Rostenbly yesterday announced Amtrak's participation in the state's $1.9 million station repair program. Paul H. Reistrup, president and chief executive officer, said in a letter he will recommend formal approval of the project by the Amtrak board.

A total of 33 railroad stations serving state-subsidized intercity passenger trains will be improved. Federal funds will be used in the 21 Amtrak stations. The other 12 stations are on the Rock Island line.

Last week, Amtrak and department officials began a joint inspection of the train stations to determine the repairs that would be made. It is planned to do most of the rehabilitation work this summer.

Work will include such projects as resurfacing platforms, installing new lighting, painting, roofing, plastering, plumbing, repaving parking lots and installing air conditioning.

REPORTING PROGRESS of a Civil Air Patrol exercise during the weekend is Capt. Edward L. Edwards (left), a partner in Commercial Office Products Co. of Granite City, to Col. Kirby Bernick, Air Force Inspector. The CAP conducted a search and rescue training mission on a small plane which theoretically crashed between Greenville and Carbondale.

Search, rescue test by Civil Air Patrol

Five aircraft, 25 seniors and fifteen cadets took part in a Civil Air Patrol Group 15 search and rescue mission during the weekend. Personnel involved were from Granite City, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Alton, Belleville, Benton and Marion.

The fictional problem was received from Wing Headquarters in Chicago as being a Cessna 150 aircraft departing from Greenville, Ill., on the evening of April 25 and heading for the airport at Carbondale.

Later that evening, it was reported the imaginary aircraft was overdue. The search was instigated on a line between Greenville and Carbondale. The mission, headed by Lieutenant Colonel Charles Williams of Benton, as base commander, and Captain Edward L. Edwards of Granite

Longer weekend hours for Arch transportation

Beginning today, the Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System will be in operation on weekdays from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and each Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. This schedule will run through May 23.

From May 24 through Sept. 1, the Transportation System in the nation's tallest monument will be in operation from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. seven days a week.

Visitors are being reminded that the ride to the top of the Arch requires a minimum round-trip time, including viewing, of 20 minutes. Ticket sales will be suspended each evening in time to permit all passengers having tickets to be transported to the Arch prior to the closing.

The Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System is operated by the Bi-State Development Agency under terms of a 30-year cooperative agreement with the National Park Service. John D. Kuziel is manager of the Arch transportation system.

Then the group will proceed south to Seventh Street, east on Seventh to Madison High School, another checkpoint, and west on Sixth Street to McCambridge Avenue.

The walkers then will go south to Third Street and west on Third to the starting point at the fire station.

CRACKDOWN ON SPEEDING by Illinois State Police starting today will utilize some totally unmarked vehicles, such as the one pictured.

Troopers say there has been an increase in speeding, adding to the severity of injuries and damage in collisions.

State police driving some unmarked cars

Illinois State Police began using totally unmarked vehicles in their patrol fleet today to help curb an increase in speeding by motorists. Each trooper assigned to an unmarked vehicle will carry the new hand-held radar speed detection "guns."

An undisclosed number of vehicles will be assigned to each of the 16 State Police districts in Illinois, according to Dwight E. Pitman, superintendent. A uniformed trooper will be assigned to each new unmarked car.

The autos in the new fleet — and they are not all autos — will bear no resemblance whatsoever to the conventional beige Dodge or Plymouth currently in use as the mainstay of the Illinois State Police auto fleet.

Most are two-door hardtops and come from all four major U.S. auto makers: General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors.

Pitman said he hopes the deterrent effect of the totally unmarked vehicle will help slow down the motorist public.

In recent checks by stationary radar for non-enforcement survey purposes only, 75.1 per cent of all vehicles were traveling over the national 55 miles per hour speed limit.

The survey went on to show that 39 of every 100 vehicles were moving more than 60 mph, 16 of every 100 were going over 65 mph, and five of every 100 were traveling in excess of 70 mph.

"We know that speed, although not the only cause of traffic accidents, is the major contributor to the severity of accidents," Pitman said.

He added that in March 1975, traffic fatalities in Illinois nearly reached the number of fatalities in March 1974, when the national 55 mph speed limit went into effect. Earlier this spring, there had been a marked decrease in Illinois traffic deaths.

The Illinois State Police, who collectively travel nearly 50 million miles a year on patrol, know that drivers can react faster and control their vehicles easier at slower speeds; a spokesman has commented; it is their desire and duty to slow some drivers down for the good of the entire motoring public, he asserts.

"Our purpose in alerting the public in advance to the use of these vehicles is to seek their voluntary cooperation in slowing down."

"We believe the deterrent effect of advance notice will greatly enhance the success of the program."

"We seek voluntary cooperation in this program. But remember, the next camper truck you see may be driven by an on-duty trooper."

Medical examiner system could spotlight hazards, detect evidence

(Committee for an Illinois Medical Examiner System)
Questions and answers on the medical examiner system being proposed to the Illinois General Assembly in 1977:

1. Who is supporting the proposed system?
Over 20 organizations have indicated their endorsement of the principle of a medical examiner system in Illinois.

2. Why has the current coroner system in Illinois not been improved sufficiently?
In Illinois, as in only nine other states, the requirement to elect a coroner for each county was specified in the old Constitution. In all of these 10 states, and in others formerly, this constitutional provision has been an impediment.

In Illinois, efforts have been made to improve the quality of work since 1955 and some progress has been made. But it is still far away from the modern medical-legal investigative system demanded by today's needs.

3. What hope does the new Illinois Constitution hold out for the establishment of a new medical-legal investigative system?
The new Illinois Constitution no longer requires that a coroner be elected in each county. An entirely new medical examiner system is now possible.

4. Can't a coroner system be made to work well?
In Ohio, where the coroner is required to be a medical doctor, and where facilities and control of quality are adequate, as in Cleveland and Cincinnati, a coroner system will work well; 36 states plus the District of Columbia have switched to a medical examiner system.

It may be appropriate to note that while some coroners have done a creditable job, while laboring under great handicaps, it is far more important to emphasize that the handicaps have resulted in a generally shoddy performance. Further, the handicaps derive not merely from personalities and shortages but from the fact that the system is antiquated, inadequate and poorly organized.

The coroner system does guarantee failure. The medical examiner system generally guarantees success.

Our goal is a uniformly good professional system, independent as possible of the good or bad will or conscience of any individual county coroner system and just improve it.

5. Why not keep the coroner system and just improve it?
Insistence on an elected coroner impedes and circumscribes progress by preventing the delegation of responsibilities to the most qualified personnel. It also prevents meaningful statewide supervision of quality.

The overall performance of the existing coroner system is poor, as indicated by the small ratio of autopsies. The requirement of useless inquests is also a waste of money.

The Cook County budget for inquests for 1975 is a huge $29,000, the largest sum ever. For Illinois, it is estimated that almost $1 million is spent annually.

6. Can the change to a medical examiner system be made efficiently and smoothly?
The bill allows for a smooth transition from elected to appointed coroner to replacement by a professional medical examiner over a three-year period.

As much of the existing coroner personnel would be absorbed into the new system as possible.

7. Will we get enough qualified forensic pathologists to cover a statewide medical examiner system?
Yes. Just two forensic pathologists are needed to start up the entire system. In fact, only one can get the system into operation.

Until more forensic pathologists come into the state are trained by the medical schools, regular pathologists can serve in the system.

8. How will we get forensic pathologists in the future?
Under a plan now in the works, Chicago area medical schools and five Down-state schools are setting up training courses and programs for forensic pathology.

In addition, plans are under way for "in-house" training by the proposed chief medical examiner for the new statewide medical examiner system.

Further, centralized training facilities are being planned. At present, there are 25 institutions in the U.S. approved for training forensic pathology.

9. How would the statewide medical examiner system be handled on an administrative basis?
The system would be divided into six or seven administrative regional medical examiner districts. This is entirely possible under present conditions.

Every regional office would need an administrative staff to work with the regional medical examiner.

There are a number of excellent experienced coroners in Illinois who could qualify for top administrative positions.

Most important, adequate status, remuneration, and facilities would make the professional and administrative positions attractive to experts and trainees.

10. Will each regional medical examiner be able to cover the area assigned to his unit?
Present day communication (telephone, telex) and transportation (superhighways, feeder highways, planes, helicopters, etc.) greatly simplify management.

In addition, future plans for terminals and sender television facilities are possible.

11. Who sets policy for the medical examiner system?
A 12-person board appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Illinois Senate.

12. The medical examiner system proposes to take medical-legal investigative services out of the political arena. Doesn't an appointed board by the governor still keep it in politics?
While there is always some politics connected with every governmental agency, the proposed system proposes four physicians from the various physician groups, three lawyers from the various legal groups, and three representatives of the "consumers" of the system, i.e., from the public health service, the law enforcement service and the funeral directors.

Finally, there are two "public" members. This makes up the board of 12, and effectively makes this a public service agency rather than a politically-oriented and localized elective office.

13. Which system, elected coroners or professional medical examiners, can be run more economically?

The medical examiner system can be run more economically. Studies made in Minnesota and New York have shown why.

A New York survey shows that the medical examiner did a better job at half the cost.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

A 1974 survey in Illinois shows 39 cents per capital cost as against 50 cents per capita for a much less effective coroner system; 1973 estimates show that the coroner system will cost the taxpayers $6.2 million a year, while the medical examiner system will cost under $5 million.

14. You say that it is more economical, but is the medical examiner system more efficient?

The rate of autopsies is usually an index. In 1968, eight Illinois counties had a 0 per cent rate. Only 19 counties had above 30 per cent, and 70 per cent had below 20 per cent.

The Illinois high crime areas had only a 15-20 per cent rate. Medical examiner systems like Baltimore have 67 per cent.

15. What percentage of medical-legal cases requires autopsy?
It has been well known from the past that autopsies need to be performed in at least 30 per cent of the deaths requiring coroner's attention.

16. How many deaths in Illinois require medical-legal investigation?
Between 25 per cent and 30 per cent is the accepted standard figure.

17. It has been said that the coroner system inquest "serves as a check and balance on other public officials by bringing out the facts."

This assumes that (1) the inquest is independent in its fact-finding and (2) is binding on other public officials. Neither of these underlying assumptions is correct.

The coroner's office has no independent fact-finding body of its own. It is completely dependent on the police and state's attorney's office.

No coroner inquest product is binding on any public official, nor is it admissible in court.

18. Are reports from coroner inquests admissible as evidence in court?
No. But reports from medical examiner systems are admissible as evidence.

19. Isn't the coroner's office a constitutional office protected and guaranteed by the constitution?
No. Article VII, Section 4 reads "Each county shall elect a sheriff, county clerk and treasurer and may elect or appoint a coroner." In fact, eight counties have already abolished the office of coroner.

20. What provision have you made for Cook County? There is more activity there than the rest of the state.

21. Cook County has expressed their preference for a medical examiner system and have abolished the coroner system by a referendum, 4 to 1. A medical examiner system will be set up beginning Dec. 6, 1976.

Under the proposed act, this system will be an autonomous system with a non-voting representative on the board of the state system.

22. It has been said that the coroner system utilizes the best feature of the medical examiner system.

Incorrect. This assumes that hospital and independent pathologists have the time to do the careful and qualified job that a full-time forensic pathologist can do. The fact is that hospital and independent pathologists are far too busy.

23. It has been said that the coroner system is important because it "fixes civil and criminal responsibility in untoward deaths." Comment?
Again wrong. This assumes that the coroner inquest report is binding on other public officials and is admissible in evidence in court.

The fact is that almost all medical examiner reports are headed by other public officials and are admissible in court as evidence.

24. It has been said that the medical examiner system tends to concentrate on the criminal and violent medical-legal investigations.

The medical examiner system now feels that identifying the faulty space heater, the defective automobile exhaust, the faulty electrical appliance, the poorly constructed baby crib is just as important for public safety as uncovering the unsuspected subtle perpetrator of a murder.

The rate of autopsies is an index to the discovery of public hazards, private accidents and civil claims as well as undetected homicides.

25. The Kopechne case in Massachusetts has been pointed out as an example of the failure of the medical examiner system.

Without going into the details of this case, we can state that Massachusetts has not changed its statute on medical examiners since 1877.

The deputy medical examiner who handled the Kopechne case happened to have been an obstetrician. He made the wrong decision and should have called in an experienced forensic pathologist from Boston.

26. Which system can utilize progress of medicine more efficiently?
The medical examiner system. Medical progress has outstripped both the knowledge and facilities available to most elected coroners.

Trained specialists, appointed on the basis of their qualifications, should be performing the medical-legal investigative function free of political interference.

LINE STRETCHES FOR MILES during the weekend in the Granite City walkathon for the March of Dimes. Walkers here are shown along Jill Avenue from the curve stretching south to Granite City High School South. About 1,000 youths and a few adults participated in the third annual walkathon.

Mammoth 'march'

Nearly 1,000 youths and a few adults started walking in a line from the Wilson Park ice rink at 11 a.m. Saturday for the third annual Granite City March of Dimes "walkathon." The line soon stretched out to more than two miles.

The walk route took the volunteers from the park to St. Margaret Mary School, Marshall School, Granite City Steel at 20th Street and Madison Avenue, and then to Memorial Park on Madison Avenue and back to Wilson Park.

Shrine and police motorcycle units controlled traffic, blocking major streets for periods as the walkers passed. The amount of money raised by the walkers will not be known until all pledges are turned in May 14.

FIRST CHECKPOINT for walkathon participants was at St. Margaret Mary School, where soft drinks were served. The line of march also went to Marshall School, Granite City Steel, Memorial Park and back to the starting point at Wilson Park.

CONSTRUCTION HAS BEGUN on Cottonwood Bowl, a new 24-lane bowling facility considered Phase I of a proposed indoor center, the Cottonwood Sports Center. The center is to ultimately have, in addition to the bowling facility, six indoor tennis courts, six indoor handball courts, a health facility for men and women, a sports store, a lounge and restaurant and possibly an ice rink.

The plan calls for several indoor sports to be located in a building with a single lobby. The location is an 11.2 acre site on Illinois Route 159 just north of the Hawthorne Animal Hospital.

ARCHITECTS' SKETCH of the new international-transporter wing under construction at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport illustrates how "transporter" vehicles will serve both enplaning and deplaning passengers using the wing. The vehicles will convey them to and from

The bowling facility will have such features as automatic scorers run by computers. The developer, Cottonwood Junction, Inc., says about half of the league time is already reserved; it will be open by the beginning of the fall season.

The new construction continues current activity in the Cottonwood area, where an office building has been completed, to be occupied by a branch of the Madison County Federal Savings and Loan. The Cottonwood Bank and Trust Co. has broken ground, and residential development is occurring in the surrounding area.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID MACZURA, whose wedding was solemnized at All Souls Unitarian Church in Tulsa, Okla. She is the former Miss Anita Carol Engle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Engle of Tulsa.

Anita Carol Engle and David MacZura are wed

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Anita Carol Engle and David MacZura, taking place April 19 at All Souls Unitarian Church in Tulsa, Okla.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Engle of Tulsa. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Warren MacZura, 3208 Aubrey Ave.

Organ selections were played prior to the 5 p.m. ceremony. The Rev. John Wolfe, pastor, officiated and presented the bride couple with a silver chalice, which was used during the ceremony, as a memento of their wedding.

Mr. Engle escorted his daughter down the white carpet and gave her in marriage. She wore a pale ivory chiffon gown designed with a square neckline and fitted bodice. Embroidered lace bands accented the waistline and formed the cuffs of the bishop-style sleeves of chiffon.

Ruffled tiers at the waist, mid-skirt and hemline created the pleated skirt of chiffon. She carried a bouquet of variegated daisies and baby's breath, festooned with pink ribbon streamers. She wore a band of daisies in her hair.

The maid of honor, Miss Cathy Casement of Tulsa, chose a long pink crepe gown and wore a corsage of daisies. Roger MacZura of Pinckney, Mich., attended his brother as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Engle selected a floor-length gown of pink crepe. The groom's mother, Mrs. MacZura, was attired in light blue crepe frock. Both wore daisy corsages.

The bride, a graduate of Memorial High School in Tulsa, is now a secretary for Rieco Design and Drafting, Inc.

Her husband graduated from Granite City High School and Tulsa School of Aviation, where he specialized in the field of electronics. He is now general manager of Rieco Television Service in Tulsa.

After the service, a dinner and dance was hosted at the Caps Hilton Inn. The couple is residing at 4210 S. Fulton, Tulsa.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included the groom's sister, Mrs. Glen Gardening? Nearly everybody's doing it

What's that man doing? He's on his hands and knees in that field over there. He seems to be examining something on the ground. No... he's putting something into the ground. Now he's walking over to that tree. He takes something that is leaning against the tree — a hoe. It's a hoe! He must be planting a garden.

And so is half the country. The other half has finished.

In fact, four out of ten households in the U. S. grow some of their own food in 1972, the latest year for which complete figures are available.

An epidemic of green thumbs is sweeping the country this spring: 1975 will be the biggest year ever for home vegetable gardening, predicts the Family Economics Bureau.

Many homeowners grow vegetables in their backyards. Apartment dwellers and those living on small lots often join group gardening projects, a relatively new but rapidly growing feature of the American scene.

Would you believe that 15 million adults, most of whom live in cities, told the Gallup Poll that they are interested in group gardening?

Group gardens are sponsored by cities, counties, school districts, corporations (for employees), non-profit organizations, farmers and private landowners who rent small plots.

This back-to-the-land movement with its overtones of sunshine and sustains, healthy exercise and happy children, is a welcome antidote to the somber developments that dog us day in and day out.

Ask gardeners why they garden and their first answer is: "To save money on groceries." The second most frequent answer is, "So we can have fresh vegetables."

Ask for additional reasons and it begins to appear that saving money — obviously a strong motive — may not be the primary motive, a Family Economics Bureau study shows.

Most gardeners probably would not plant a garden merely to save money. In fact, if they didn't enjoy gardening, they'd probably never get around to the hard work required to have a good garden.

Why do people garden? Some of the many reasons are:

1. Family togetherness: It's a chance for parents and children to do something together and to develop greater family unity in the process.
2. Education: Parents feel that children benefit from seeing plants grow and learning why they grow.

3. Recreation: It's fun to be in the sun, putting around in a garden and seeing things grow. It's a satisfaction often unavailable in the workday world.

And other people favor gardening for its benefits to society — people like Eddie Albert, who portrayed the bumbling farmer from the city on TV's "Green Acres."

Albert, who is something of a one-man foundation for many private causes in his off-screen hours, is the spirit behind a neighborhood gardening movement for people of all ages. The program currently counts a million participants and expects to reach 25 million within two years.

The idea for the movement originated with Bob Toelsen, director of Parks and Recreation for Champaign, Ill. Five years ago, he sold Albert on encouraging young people to garden as an antidote to violence and drug addiction.

The original motive proved valid and led to an unexpected benefit — a general reduction in vandalism in city neighborhoods with plot gardening projects.

"The pride that kids take in their gardens seems to expand into pride in their entire neighborhoods," says Albert.

In inner-city neighborhoods around the country, local leaders obtain permission to use idle land under power lines, on freeway rights-of-way and on the sites of abandoned factories and service stations.

Then they "promote" — as Albert expresses it — donations of seed, compost and garden tools.

The reason that most gardeners give for gardening is still the practical one — saving money.

How much money? The answer must reflect the cost of seeds and plants, rakes and hoes, and the cost of driving to and from a garden if it's not in your own backyard.

Estimates range from $100 to $200 for a small 250-square-foot garden, depending on the expertise of the individual gardener.

Savings mount significantly when the garden is large enough to provide all the fresh vegetables you can eat — plus a surplus that can be frozen, canned, dried or stored in a cool, dry place for use throughout the year.

The desire to grow vegetables has drawn people together into a variety of groups. Farmers do most of the heavy work for participants in The Papal Gardens, a Wisconsin group associated with the Catholic church. Families rent land from farmers who plow, disk, plant and do much of the cultivating. Renters do the rest of the cultivating, hoeing, thinning and, of course, harvesting. Papal Gardens' members pay rental fees for plots and heavy machinery and hourly wages to farmers.

In Ann Arbor, Mich., group gardeners work together on one large garden and then share the produce at harvest time. If they can't use it all themselves, they give it away.

The prototype for future group gardens may be developing on a small 50-acre farm near Schwenksville, Pa. Owner Clarence Cope Jr. and his son, Clarence III, rented their first plots during the summer of 1974. They tell gardeners that they can raise $400 worth of food with an investment of $45.

This year, the Copes intend to rent hand and power tools; sell seed, mulch, and fertilizer; store tools and supplies; offer professional canning and freezing services — and even sell box lunches and provide a babysitting service.

They also plan to call their clients on Thursdays to report if their gardens need tending that weekend. If the weeds are under control, the client can schedule other activities for the weekend instead of hoeing and pulling weeds.

But a garden can be more fun — and profitable — if one pauses before planting to learn about such things as soil characteristics; the proper natural or chemical fertilizer for each type of soil; proper depth and spacing of seeds and plants; special nutritional needs of each plant; and how to control fungi, weeds and damage by insects and birds.

This information, and much more, can be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Services (AES) of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Check under U. S. government listings in the telephone directory for the AES number.

garden, write for a free booklet entitled, "Garden For All: Guide to a Greener, Happier, Healthier Community." It's published by Gardens for All, Inc., Dept. PC, Charlotte, VI 65445, a clearinghouse for group gardening information.

A little knowledge goes a long way in gardening. If we are to believe Lynn and Joel Rapp, authors and horticulturalists, a green thumb is nothing more than "a positive state of mind."

The entire back-to-the-earth movement can be looked on as a sign of a positive state of mind. It's part of the good news about America.

Used oil collection program

The Office of the Illinois Energy Coordinator announced final plans during the weekend for the start of the Illinois Waste Oil Collection Program. It will be a test program to evaluate the best method of collecting used oil.

Three suburban Chicago communities were chosen to participate in a 12-month trial program — Glen Ellyn, Des Plaines and Naperville. Ernest Dunwoody, assistant energy coordinator for conservation, said the three were chosen because they met the criteria of having well-developed recycling centers, a proven interest in the environment and support of their local governments for the program.

May 1875 saw Lincoln trial, unusual spelling contest prize

May brings flowers—and thoughts of past May. The most important historical event to take place in Illinois a hundred years ago this month was, as the Chicago Inter Ocean reported, "the trial of the question of the sanity of Mrs. Lincoln, the widow of Abraham Lincoln, President."

Other Illinois happenings during May 1875—according to a selective check of the files of newspapers in the Illinois State Historical Library—included some freakish weather, large attendances at the annual Decoration Day ceremonies, and new developments in the spelling-bee had that been sweeping the state.

The Mary Todd Lincoln trial came in the same month ten years after her martyred husband had been buried at Oak Ridge Cemetery in Springfield. The hearing was on May 19 in the Cook County Court, with Judge M. R. M. Wallace presiding.

The Chicago Inter Ocean story said, "The proceedings were based on a petition filed by Robert T. Lincoln, setting forth that Mary Lincoln, his mother, is non compos mentis."

"The calamity dates from the assassination of President Lincoln and developed itself in different vagaries; at one time in extreme solicitude for her son's health, at another in imagining that spirits conversed with her; again in apprehending personal violence, and in unnecessary and extravagant expenditures."

Mrs. Lincoln was living at Chicago's Grand Pacific Hotel and the witnesses at the hearing included the hotel manager, the housekeeper, the cashier and a maid.

Other witnesses were several doctors, an express agent, and clerks or managers at stores where she had made those "unnecessary and extravagant expenditures."

After hearing the 17 witnesses the jury returned its verdict "that the said Mary Lincoln is insane, and is a fit person to be sent to a state hospital for the insane."

The next day, Mrs. Lincoln was "conveyed to the private insane asylum at Batavia, superintended by Dr. R. J. Patterson and known as Bellevue Place." She remained there until Sept. 10, when she went to Springfield to visit her sister, Mrs. Ninian W. Edwards.

In describing the weather that month, the Rock Island Union said "there were no May queens fooling around in the northwestern part of the state May 1. A heavy snowstorm prevailed nearly all the day."

This had changed by the 26th, when the State Register of Springfield commented, "Palm leaf jays give many people employment at the present time."

The Inter Ocean reported May 3 that the Chicago fishing fleet was caught in a storm and two vessels were lost. On May 24, a headline read "Pun in the Fog," followed by "Tugs Lost—Vessels Aground and Sunk—Three Serious Collisions." These were boats carrying lumber to Chicago or taking grain out.

Decoration Day (now Memorial Day) was observed in Chicago when thousands went to Rosehill, Calvary, Graceland and Oakwood cemeteries by railroad.

Observances also were held at Quincy, Springfield and Rock Island, but at Mount City the crowd, "probably all of 10,000 people," was disappointed by the fact that "the monument which was to have been unveiled and dedicated was not completed."

The spelling bee craze reached new heights when Moline challenged Henry County and 102 persons took a special excursion train to Geneseo for the contest, which Henry County won. And the State Register reported that "a girl of this state offers herself as a prize to be taken by the unmarried man most successful at a spelling match."

200 volunteers selling Festival coupon books

The number of volunteers selling Mississippi River Festival pre-season coupon books now exceeds 200. MRF bi-state sales chairman are Mrs. Larry Hepler of Edwardsville and Mrs. Marcel Saghir of Richmond Heights, Mo.

The leaders of the coupon book campaign indicated it has been easier this year to organize the sales effort, which has a goal of $100,000 before the opening of the MRF on June 30. The eight-week festival will continue through Aug. 30 on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Nearly 50 music, dance and arts and crafts events are scheduled.

Lyle Ward, MRF managing director, said, "The enthusiasm for this year's program is very gratifying, and we appreciate the willingness of so many people to participate in the coupon book campaign."

The books, which sell for $20, offer $25 worth of coupons redeemable for tickets to any River Festival event.

Coupons may be redeemed by mail or in person at the STUE ticket office in the University Center, and more than 40 bi-state outlets will open June 2 for sales of coupon books and tickets.

The volunteers in this area who are selling coupon books include:

Auto crashes against store

One man was injured when a car turning from Madison Avenue north onto Nameoki Road went out of control and slid into the front windows of Tri-City Radio Service Co. early this week.

Morris Reno, 2140 Robert St., the driver of the car, was charged with speeding and disobeying a signal light. Police alleged they saw the auto on Madison Avenue going toward the intersection at high speed.

An officer in a patrol car was preparing to give chase when the auto went through a red blinking light in the intersection and slid into the store, causing extensive damage to the store front and to items inside the store.

Large windows were broken. Keith Brown, 30, of 1927 Fourth St., Madison, a passenger in the car, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a cut above his left eyelid which required sutures. Skull x-rays were taken and he was released.

Humanities grants are available

A grant of up to $500,000 was being awarded to the Illinois Humanities Council to fund programs during its second year of operation as the state-based affiliate for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Marvin L. Weaver, executive director of the IHC, said this is the largest grant ever made by the National Endowment for the Humanities to a state-based program for its second year.

During the Council's first full year of operation, 30 awards totaling more than $175,000 were made to support public programs in the humanities.

The IHC makes its awards to community organizations, academic institutions and various combinations of agencies. Emphasis is on ways that the humanities—fields such as history, philosophy and literature—can bring a better understanding to issues of public policy.

Any non-profit, non-partisan institution, organization or group in Illinois is invited to apply for a grant.

Eligible organizations might include libraries, historical societies, colleges and universities, professional and fraternal groups, community organizations, school-related adult groups, church-related organizations, governmental agencies and combinations of organizations.

Guidelines for grant applications may be obtained by writing the Illinois Humanities Council, 314 S. Neil St., Champaign, Ill.

School for specialists on elections

Michael E. Lavelle, chairman of the State Board of Elections, has announced a new school session beginning in May to train staff members who will specialize in all phases of election laws and procedures.

"The new session, which will include seminars and field work, will be held in accordance with our policy of training staff members to have a comprehensive view of the election process so they can work effectively with election authorities and the public throughout the state," Lavelle said.

He noted that the first school of the State Board of Elections, held last summer in Decatur and Springfield, was praised nationally for its excellence by election experts.

"The new session," Lavelle said, "is geared to train recently appointed staff members, most of whom will become part of the State Board's field force and work with county clerks and city and village election authorities in all parts of Illinois."

The school faculty, according to Lavelle, will include nationally renowned election experts as well as state and local experts.

School director will be Dr. Richard G. Smolkin of Washington, D. C., who is director of the Institute of Election Administration and professor of the American University. He broadcasts commentaries and election activities programs that emanate from Washington.

Other faculty members of national prominence include Dr. Herbert E. Alexander, director of the Citizens' Research Foundation at Princeton, N.J., a consultant to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson in 1962-64, to the U.S. House of Representatives and to the White House Study Group in 1966-67, to the Committee for Economic Development in 1968-69, to the U.S. comptroller general and the Congressional Select Committee on Presidential Campaign Activities in September 1974, along with many other governmental organizations.

Dr. Richard M. Scammon, director of the Collections Research Center in Washington, also will serve as lecturer. He has been a director of the Census, was chairman of the President's Commission on Registration and Voting Participation in 1965, and now serves as a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations.

The school will open Monday May 12, in Springfield for a two-week period of intensive classroom work. Other classroom work will be given in Carbondale for two weeks, June 9-20, and in the Chicago area July 7-18. The interim periods will be devoted to field work.

Outlook for home buyers is dimmed by 'no growth' idea

Art S. Leitch, president of the National Association of Realtors, has good — but not great — expectations for home buyers during the balance of 1975. He has advised the Granite City Board of Realtors.

The San Diego realtor feels that some changes in the mortgage market picture, first noted by him in late November, should take full effect later this year.

"In my travels late last year, realtors were reporting that mortgage money was returning to thrift institutions and that the record-high interest rates had dropped somewhat," the president said.

The national association's Department of Economics and Research also noted some improvements nationally by late last year and has predicted at least a partial recovery for the housing industry in 1975.

Leitch emphasized, however, that home buyers, sellers and realtors should not expect easy access to mortgage money, nor a return to relatively low interest rates.

"Our best estimate is that 1975 will be better than 1974, but certainly not a banner year. We should have a clearer picture in June," he added.

One of his jobs throughout the year will be to keep the public and realtors informed about national trends of this sort and challenges of the right of property ownership.

"In the course of the year, I will have attended numerous state association conventions and other functions. I will use those occasions to inform the public about pending legislation and urge realtor action at state and national levels when appropriate," he said.

One concern of his that is a carryover from previous years is a trend to "highly restrictive land use."

Leitch said there are tendencies in federal, state and local regulations and interpretations to prefer "no growth" to carefully planned growth — and frequently without adequate compensation to the owner of the property involved.

He referred particularly to:

1. Attempts by some communities to establish restrictive yearly quotas for population increase.
2. Application by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) of regulations that could limit the size and number of shopping centers.
3. Attempts by the government to control growth through limitations on expansion of sewer lines and sewage treatment plants.

"Realtors always have favored reasonable controls on land use. Without proper zoning and planning laws, the effect on the residential sales market would be enormous," Leitch said.

"And, we encourage the federal government to make financial and technical assistance available to those states and localities that want to develop a balanced land use planning process based on a comprehensive inventory of their land resources."

"At the same time, we urge that legislation avoid any suggestion that the federal government dictate state and local land use decisions," Leitch added.

He also urges local, state and federal governments to develop a balanced planning approach, with ample consideration of economic, social and environmental factors.

"The objective should be planned growth, not no growth," he added.

Realtors desire to be responsive to public needs and interests also has prompted development of a warranty program on existing homes.

"Expected to be in full operation this summer, the program would protect buyer and seller from loss due to major faults in the house, it was explained.

Leitch, who last year served as chairman of the warranty program study committee, feels that within three years applications for these warranties could top one million annually.

"So, all things in balance, 1975 is expected to be a better year for realtors and the people they serve," the president concluded.

Army 200 years old next month

(Department of Defense)

Nearly two centuries ago, a war was fought to secure individual liberty and representative government for the American people—a heritage which has had a profound influence throughout the world.

The ideals of the American people remain constant as the nation approaches its bicentennial: Only the mode of protecting these precious freedoms has changed.

Leitch emphasized, however, that home buyers, sellers and realtors should not expect easy access to mortgage money, nor a return to relatively low interest rates.

"Our best estimate is that 1975 will be better than 1974, but certainly not a banner year. We should have a clearer picture in June," he added.

members of the Eighth U. S. Army work alongside Korean soldiers as they continue to promote increased understanding and mutual respect for each other.

Total readiness of the Army is directly related to the effectiveness of its Reserve components—Army National Guard and Army Reserve.

Under the Army's Total Force policy, Guard and Reserve units constitute 45 percent of the Army's strength and are the primary sources for augmentation of the active Army.

This policy is reflected in the affiliation program whereby certain Guard and Reserve units are designated to augment active Army divisions. Because of its success in 1974, this concept is scheduled for further expansion in 1975.

Twenty-four Army National Guard combat battalions have already completed their first annual training in affiliation with active Army counterparts.

In addition to national defense efforts, Army resources are used in selected domestic action activities.

Military helicopters, for example, have been adapted for aeromedical evacuation support in selected communities in the U. S.

Disaster assistance is another peacetime function of the Army. In 1974, the Army provided personnel and equipment in 20 disasters or declared emergencies in 18 states.

To keep pace with advances in science and technology, the Army is continuing to support an imaginative research and development program.

Currently under development are five major weapons systems that will enhance the combat capability of the Army of the 1980s and 1990s.

These are a new Main Battle Tank with far greater firepower and mobility than the current tank; a Mechanized Infantry Combat Vehicle that will be a companion assault vehicle to the new tank, one in which the infantryman can fight from within.

Also, an Advanced Attack Helicopter capable of day-night, all-weather operations; a new troop-carrying helicopter called the Utility Tactical Transport Aircraft System (UTIAS) that will carry a full squad.

And an advanced air defense missile system called Surface-to-Air Missile Development

(SAM-D) that will provide the defensive umbrella under which the Army of the future will be able to operate.

Looking still farther into the future, Army research seeks to explore the unknown frontiers of science and technology.

The Army does not intend that the U. S. soldier of the future will ever be confronted by an enemy battlefield technological surprise for which he has no counter-capability. Therefore, the Army is taking steps to ensure that tomorrow's Army will be, technologically, the world's most combat effective ground force.

Next month, the Army celebrates its bicentennial. Since its beginning on June 14, 1775, the Army has served the nation in war and peace.

In 1775, Americans struggled for certain high ideals. Today, the Army preserves those ideals by continually improving its ability to protect our American way of life.

May Fellowship tea Friday

Annual Fellowship Day, an annual observance of the Quad-City Church Women United, will be combined with a tea from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday at St. John United Church of Christ, 2801 Nameoki Road.

Mrs. Ralph Elliott, project chairman, said tickets costing $1.50 each may be obtained from any Church Women United representative, or by calling Mrs. James Rush, at 931-0420.

The "old-fashioned" tea is the sole fund-raising event sponsored by the Church Women United, Mrs. Elliott pointed out. Proceeds from the tea will be used to support such ongoing programs as the Nearly New Clothing Center, Layettes for the Newborn, Senior Service (nursing homes project) and an areawide blood program involving many church congregations in the Quad-Cities.

At the tea, Mrs. Louise Leonard of Champaign, a former resistance worker with the underground during World War II in The Netherlands, will be the keynote speaker. She has chosen the topic, "You Can Have Your Cake and Eat it Too."

The guest speaker, who has lived in China and Indonesia, as well as Europe, came to the United States in 1947. In addition to her work with the Dutch underground movement in the war years, Mrs. Leonard also served as foster mother to a Jewish child for 3½ years during the same period of time.

Her husband is a professor of chemistry at the University of Illinois and they are the parents of four children.

Mrs. Leonard serves as vice president of Church Women United in Illinois and is a member of the National Church Women United's governing board.

The public is invited to attend the May Fellowship Day tea, joining thousands of Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic women in 2,000 local units of CWU's national organization, who will take part in similar observances, Mrs. Elliott said.

Laclede Steel Co. aids drive for Children's Home and Aid facility

Laclede Steel Company has contributed $5,000 to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society capital fund drive to purchase and renovate the society's facility at 1009 College Ave., Alton.

Noble Wyatt, campaign general chairman, said Laclede has provided an additional contribution "if we can reach the $20,000 level in our fund drive." Contributions and pledges now total $23,000. The Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, a voluntary agency supported entirely by United Way and other contributions, has cared for dependent and neglected children in Jersey, Madison and St. Clair counties for more than 90 years, but has never had a permanent office in this area. The facility it is seeking to purchase is a large, older home, considered "an ideal setting for an agency dealing with problems of families and children." Kenneth Kloos is serving as co-chairman and advanced gift chairman of the agency's capital fund campaign. William B. Burns is coordinating the campaign in Belleville, Mrs. Frank L. Kraus in Granite City and Earl Plektemier in Edwardsville. The society is seeking a total of $25,000.

Harold Harper, 19, of Rural Route Two, Box 1055, Granite City, and Timothy J. Johnson, 17, of 2702 Kirkpatrick Avenue, were charged with burglary after police stopped their car at St. Clair Avenue and Nantowki Road during the weekend and alleged finding items stolen during a burglary at Wilson School.

A neighbor of the school reported seeing two men carrying boxes from the school into an auto in the 3000 block of National Avenue. The car was described and officers alleged finding a car of that description on Harper, the driver, was asked to open the car trunk and complied, according to police, who alleged finding 30 pounds of frozen hamburger, 20 pounds of frozen hamburger patties, an electric clock and a volleyball inside the trunk.

Police noticed a piece of plexiglass had been pried from a window in Room 152 of the school. Officers alleged finding a flashlight and an awl on Harper.

Arrest 4 after crash

Four men were arrested after an alleged disturbance following a minor auto accident in the 3000 block of Rock Road during the weekend.

Police said the cars of Leroy Tidwell, 1802 Poplar St., and of Pamela Crain, Alton, were in the accident and Pamela Crain and passengers in her car told officers the occupants of the Tidwell auto were abusive to them and later left the scene.

They said Tidwell's auto crossed into their lane and then went back into their lane to move her auto. When they were unable to do so, the Tidwell auto pushed their car backwards, they alleged.

Police saw Tidwell's auto southbound on Route 151 and then east on Rock Road. Officers alleged chasing the car at up to 50 miles-per-hour on Rock Road to Roosevelt Street where it was stopped at a stop sign.

They alleged the driver became abusive when they attempted to search him and he was arrested. In the police car, Tidwell was alleged to have threatened the lives of the officer and others.

Tidwell was charged with resisting arrest, improper lane usage, leaving the scene of an accident, disorderly conduct and speeding.

Two passengers in his car also were arrested in connection with the alleged disturbance which followed the accident. Gerald Isom, 19, of 2141 Benton St., and Jerry Wise, 27, of 2023 Denver St., were charged with disorderly conduct.

One officer alleged while he was taking a report on the accident, one youth continued to make abusive gestures toward police, despite several warnings. He alleged attempting to arrest Isom, 19, of 2141 Benton St., and said Isom ran into a home in the 3000 block of Rock Road where he was reportedly found hiding in a closet. He was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Benton break-in

A window in a rear basement door was broken to gain entry to the home of Wesley Metzger, 2900 Benton St., early this week. A neighbor reported seeing the rear door left open.

The interior of the home had been ransacked. Officers found a flashlight, which still was turned on, left on an upstairs dresser.

A hypodermic syringe also was found on the dining room table. It appeared food had been prepared and eaten, and the kitchen was ransacked.

It is not known if anything was stolen.

Rotter is presented Eagle Scout award

Bruce Rotter, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Rotter, 2717 Washington Ave., was presented the Eagle Scout award this week at ceremonies held in the First United Presbyterian Church, 32nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

He has been member of Troop Eight, sponsored by the church, for five years and served as an assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, assistant senior patrol leader, senior patrol leader and junior assistant scoutmaster.

Currently serving as an assistant scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 18, sponsored by Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Rotter is first vice-president of Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison police department.

In addition to earning 24 merit badges, he has scouting accomplishments that include: secretary of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow (OA), a Brotherhood member of the OA Camp Sennen promotion chairman, OA outstanding service award to rule award, and membership on the Cahokia Mount Council explorer committee.

A senior at Granite City High School South, he is president of the science club there and a member of the National Honor Society. He is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler issued the official "challenge" to the new Eagle and G. Rollin Henn, a past president of the local scout council and 50-year scout leader, made the official presentation of the award. Father Daniel Flynn, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, gave the invocation and the Rev. David Bruce Maxton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the benediction. Clyde Merit presented Rotter with the Elks Americanism award and a United States flag for his patriotic endeavors.

Guests at the event included Dr. Thomas Layloff, chairman of the Univah (Quad-Cities) District; W. F. "Mick" Strange, vice-president of the Cahokia Mount Council; members and families of Troop Eight; and several members of Explorer Post 10-4 and their advisor, J. Richard Hodes.

Due to the illness of Bruce's father, Investigator Paul Biegli of the Madison police videolaged the program. The tape then was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo., where it was shown to the father.

Cyclist hurt

Joseph Dutchik, 19, of 2870 Spaulding Ave., was injured when his motorcycle and the auto of Joseph Gram, 2018 Lynch Ave., collided on Spaulding Avenue east of Stearns Avenue early this week.

Dutchik said the oncoming car moved to the center to pass a parked auto and Dutchik did not feel he had enough room to drive through, so he jumped off his motorcycle, skidding his left arm and scraping the left side of his chest.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where x-rays were taken and he was admitted.

Merit scholarship to Lisa Groothuis

A total of 1,424 winners of college-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships were announced Wednesday by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation of Evanston, Ill. The last of three major announcements of winners this year, The total number of merit scholars named in the twentieth annual (1975) competition is about 3,700 and their awards are valued at over $8 million.

The list includes Lisa M. Groothuis, 2609 Spaulding Ave., a GCHS North student who will attend Washington University, Valuedictorian of her class and an American Legion oratorical state finalist, the recipient will study engineering.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, Masque and Gavel, band, chorus and mathematics and chemistry team.

A debate captain and United Way essay winner, she has been a school newspaper editor, state scholar, member of play casts, school music accompanist, concert band narrator and physical education award winner.

She is a member of the Modern Music Masters, German club and science club.

Washington University is a private, non-sectarian, coeducational institution of strong academic stature, blending the personal contact of a small college community with the faculty and facilities of a larger university. It offers undergraduate degree programs in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences as well as in engineering, architecture, business administration and fine arts.

All award winners included in the announcement were selected from among the merit program finalists who named the sponsoring college or university as first choice. Each award is renewable for up to four years of undergraduate study at the institution financing the scholarship, and is not transferable.

The winner of a college-sponsored four-year merit scholarship was selected by officials of the college, who also completed the financial need and set the amount of the winner's annual stipend.

Stipends can range from a minimum of $100 to a maximum of $1,500 per year—between $400 and $6,000 for the four years of college.

Winners' stipends are not made public since they are based in part on confidential family financial information. However, the average total value of a college-sponsored merit scholarship awarded in 1975 is about $2,500.

"The number of colleges and universities that sponsor merit scholarships continues to grow each year," Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said.

"Over the 13 years of in-legal sponsorship through the framework of the merit program, the number of colleges offering such scholarships has grown from nine in 1963 to 196 in 1975.

The 1975 merit scholarship competition began in October 1973, when over one million high school juniors attending 17,000 secondary schools took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

About 15,000 semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, were announced in September 1974. The semifinalist group represented less than half of one percent of the U.S. graduating high school senior class, and the number of semifinalists named in each state was proportional to the state's percentage of the national total.

About 14,000 semifinalists advanced to finalist standing by meeting further requirements. Each semifinalist who qualified as a finalist confirmed his earlier high test performance on a second examination, received his school's endorsement and recommendation for merit scholarship consideration, presented a record of high academic standing and supplied information about his goals and accomplishments. In February, all finalists were awarded certificates of merit for their distinguished performance in the competition. NMSC is an independent, nonprofit organization established in 1955.

The merit program is a nationwide academic talent search in which about 13,500,000 high school students have participated to date.

The latest announcement of schools brings the total selected in 1975 to 3,700. In the 20 annual competitions now completed, over 41,500 merit scholarships have been awarded, with a total value of more than $112 million.

No depression ahead—Price

"Continued Congressional action on the country's economic problems is essential," Congressman Melvin Price (Dem., Ill.) declared in a speech given before the Retail Clerks District Council 1 in East Alton this week. After commending members of Local 450 on their 75th anniversary as a union, the speaker turned to economic issues of the nation. Despite current problems which are serious, Rep. Price said, he did not want to give the impression that the U. S. is heading for another 1930 depression. "I don't want to give you that impression because it simply isn't true. The Great Depression came upon the U. S. suddenly and without warning. We have been given plenty of warning, and we have an example of what can happen to us if action is not taken."

"Mindful of this, I want to state clearly once more what I have said time and time again: We in Congress have seen these problems and are taking decisive action to curb our economic problems."

"And we will continue to fight this recession until we win the battle and put the country back on the road to recovery."

Cong. Price cited the tax rebate program, the 850 Social Security payment and proposed public service jobs for 1,500,000 unemployed as viable answers to the country's economic troubles.

Addressing himself to other national issues, the local congressman stressed a continued need for energy research, warning that "we cannot continue reckless, unthinking use and waste of our precious fossil fuels."

"However, with proper conservation measures—such as more efficient automobile engines and better highways for good mileage plus continued research into other means of providing power to the country—I am certain we will be able to contain this most serious problem."

Finally, Cong. Price discussed what he termed "social legislation." Of particular interest to Americans now, he said, are education, health care, and wage and pension reform.

"I believe Congress has provided the leadership expected by the people in all these fields," Price said. "But

Insurance deadline on corn, beans

Local farmers are being reminded that the final date to apply for the 1975 Federal Crop Insurance Corporation's "all-risk" crop protection for corn and soybeans is May 10, according to the Southern Illinois sales supervisor, Walter Keyser.

Since 1955, this "self-help" farm program has allowed farmers to pay small annual premiums to protect themselves against any natural, unavoidable damage to their crops, a U.S. Agriculture Department spokesman recalled.

More farmers each year are recognizing the importance of such crop protection as the investment in growing crops increases yearly to record levels, he added.

"As a result of last year's extensive crop damage due to heavy spring rains, a summer drought and an early fall freeze, many more farmers are now recommending the use of Federal Crop Insurance as collateral for farm operating loans."

"Offering an ever-changing program to keep pace with today's farmer, the FCIC has made available a 15 per cent increase in corn coverages for early planting."

"In addition, the planting dates have been changed somewhat in most areas to allow for adverse planting conditions such as during 1974."

"Due to increased interest in the program this year and the limited time available for FCIC representatives to explain the details, farmers who want to apply for the "all-risk" protection are urged to contact the FCIC office at Room 208, U.S. Post Office & Federal Bldg., Brees, Ill. 62230 or telephone (618) 526-4668."

Struck on head

Eileen Wallace, 37, of 2435 Cleveland Blvd., was injured when she alleged a man struck the side of her head with a pistol at Niedringhaus Avenue and Walnut Street during the weekend.

She said she was getting into her car when the man displayed a pistol and struck the side of her head, cutting her left ear.

She drove to the Granite City police station where she ran inside and requested an escort to the hospital, saying the man and his girlfriend were following her car.

Police took her to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted for observation.

Air pollution awareness seminar

A senior staff economist currently serving on the President's Council of Economic Advisors will headline a group of speakers scheduled to lead an air pollution awareness seminar Monday, May 5, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The seminar at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Lovejoy Library auditorium is the third event in a spring lecture series being sponsored by the SIUE Economics Association.

Allen G. Pulsipher, a senior staff economist with the President's Council of Economic Advisors since 1973, will be joined by Robert E. Kohn, associate professor of economics at SIUE, and Gene D. Prantner, a director of the five-year Regional Air Pollution Study (RAPs) of the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Pulsipher's topic will be, "Have recent economic and energy problems made existing environmental policy obsolete?"

Formerly associate professor of economics and director of the Business Research Bureau at SIU at Carbondale, he has participated in analysis of economic aspects of major policy and legislative decisions involving the Environmental Protection Agency, including the adequacy of research being done on economic and social aspects of environmental regulation.

Prof. Kohn, a National Science Foundation grant recipient to study regional air pollution, will discuss "Some second thoughts on the problem of 'social cost.'" He has been conducting research since 1967 on effects of air pollution on society and the costs of pollution control.

Prantner will report the status of RAPs. He has indicated the study will be a key factor in EPA policy recommendations regarding air pollution control in the St. Louis vicinity.

A former Air Force weather observer and U. S. Navy research meteorologist, he was deputy chief of logistics for U. S. participants in the Tropical Atlantic Experiments, the first of a series of international meteorological experiments known as the Global Atmospheric Research Project. He formerly was chief of projects with the Research Aviation Facility of the National Center of Atmospheric
